

SHENANDOAH WINNING WAY TO CAMP LEWIS!

MANY KILLED IN CANTON BY MOBS RIOTING

Wild Confusion Prevails With Fighting, Looting; Heavy Fire Loss

CANTON, Oct. 17.—Heavy loss of life accompanied the fighting between the merchant volunteers and the Yunnanese mercenaries of Sun Yat Sen in the Saikwan district.

The volunteers were finally defeated in desperate street fighting which continued throughout the day while flames raged about them.

The fire was brought under control today with a loss estimated at $7,000,000.

Several foreigners were wounded by stray bullets. Wild confusion prevails with the soldiery openly looting in all sections.

Although 1000 are reported dead in the fighting, the number of casualties cannot be determined accurately until the panic subsides. The soldiers slashed and stabbed not only their opponents but excited civilians caught in the streets.

Conflicting Reports

Defeat of the volunteers was said to have been due largely to the fire which swept through thousands of buildings.

Refugees from the burning buildings and from the streets of Canton attempted to enter the foreign settlement Shamen, but there was not enough room to shelter them and the possessions they wanted to bring with them.

Conflicting reports of progress of the battle in northern China are furnished in official statements from the Chinese and Manchurian capitals.

A communique from Peking states that General Wu Pei Fu's troops have driven the forces of Chang Tso Lin, Manchurian warlord, beyond the great Chinese wall. The communique from Mukden claims that Chang's troops have occupied Shanghai Kwan in northern China.

Looters beheaded several soldiers caught looting were beheaded immediately in the hours of terror following street battles between volunteers of the Canton merchants' association and Sun Yat Sen's troops.

Merchant volunteers, following their defeat today at the hands of the forces of Sun Yat Sen fled into the suburbs where they attempted a new attack on the mercenaries, but were repulsed.

Looting is continuing, the victims including many owners of Japanese shops. Japanese soldiers are making a city-wide house to house search for arms and are seizing occupants of houses where arms are found and confiscating all guns and ammunition.

Trotsky Warns Army To Be Ready for War

MOSCOW, Oct. 17.—Leon Trotsky, soviet commissar for war, speaking to a Cossack assembly at Khabardino Balkars today urged his hearers "to be ready to mount their horses at a moment's notice to fight for Russia."

"Sooner or later the enemy may compel us to shoulder arms for our country's defense," said Trotsky. "That is why we cannot disarm the army. Our enemies, the vultures and imperialists—those who now disrupt China—don't permit us to do so. We do not want to be torn and crushed."

"States under the soviet alliance can adjust their mutual differences peacefully, but we could not take such a course with London or New York. Our army is strong not alone with its own strength but because it has with the peasants and workers."

Boy Bandit Killed In Staging Store Holdup

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—An unidentified bandit, about 21 years old, was shot and killed by Lawrence Hedgard, a drug store proprietor, when the young man attempted to hold up Hedgard's store here today.

CONVOKES PARLIAMENT

PARIS, Oct. 17.—The cabinet today convoked the French parliament for November 4.

Secret Is Out! Reason Why Rockefeller Lost His Hair Revealed By Own Barber!

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 17.—John D. Rockefeller isn't quite bald from having his hair fall out. He wore it out.

For that you have the word of his barber, Edward Helwig, 67, who today celebrated with some pomp and not a little bit of ceremony his fiftieth year of snip-snipping in this village.

Helwig said that if the emperor of Standard Oil had listened to his barber rather than his doctors he would have a head of thick, long, silky hair today instead of a wig.

"The doctors had told him that he ought to take a hard massage of the scalp," Helwig said. "When I started to rub his head lightly, he ordered me to massage it briskly until it looked like a beet. I warned him but he wouldn't listen to me.

"Now he hasn't a hair on his head."

Boudoir secrets mean nothing at all to the aged scissors snipper. He revealed that it was just 15 years ago that John D. began wearing a wig over his naked skull.

Helwig said that fifty years ago he never had expected that some day women would be his best customers, as those with shingles and boyish bobs are today.

SOCIETY MAN DRUG STORE IS BANDIT SMASHED SUSPECT IN CRASH

Member of Exclusive Clubs Partially Identified as 'Midnight Robber' P. E. Train and Truck Collide At Brand and Doran, Injuring Driver

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—Said to have led a Jekyll-Hyde existence in that he moved in the best social and club circles by day and is declared to have become a bandit at night, A. C. Houghton, 40, member of several exclusive clubs, was arrested by police detectives today and held on suspicion of robbery.

Houghton's arrest created a furore in business and downtown circles, many of his acquaintances scoffing at the detectives' charges and expressing confidence the clubman would succeed in clearing himself.

At the police station the arresting officers, Detectives Bartley and Shammo, refused to reveal details of the evidence which resulted in Houghton's arrest, other than a statement that he had been partially identified as the "midnight bandit" who has recently held up a number of oil stations.

Death Toll Following Typhoon on Increase

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 17.—The death toll as the result of the typhoon in the Cagayan valley region continues to increase. Red Cross aid from Manila is being rushed to the devastated area. Food supplies, including large quantities of rice, also are being sent to the valley as reports indicate several districts there are entirely without food.

Plan Next Consistory In Rome for December

ROME, Oct. 17.—The next consistory will be held in December, it was learned at the Vatican today. Monsignor Cervetti, papal nuncio to France, and a Spanish bishop, are expected to get the red hat of the cardinalate. No Americans will be elevated.

American Railway Men To Study German Type

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—A hundred and fifty American railway officials arrived to study the German railway system. Tonight they will be guests at a dinner at the Hotel Esplanade, owned by the estate of Hugo Stinnes.

Report Shows Trading By Germany and Italy

ROME, Oct. 17.—Trade returns for the first six months of 1924, published today, show Italy's exports to Germany totaled $60,000,000 lire, imports from Germany $30,000,000 lire.

REPORT OF EARTHQUAKE

MOSCOW, Oct. 17.—An earthquake was reported from Tashkent today.

A spectacular accident at 7:45 o'clock this morning transformed the southwest corner of Brand boulevard and Doran street into a miniature "no man's land," when the southbound Burbank limited on the Pacific Electric railway crashed into a loaded gravel truck weighing thirteen tons, knocking it into the front of L. S. Chambers' pharmacy.

F. M. Gregory of Tujunga, driver of the truck, was badly shaken and slightly bruised, according to his statement. The truck, owned by Schweitzer brothers of Los Angeles, was badly damaged and the front end of the first car of the P. E. train dented in places by the crash.

Drug Store Damaged The damage to the drug store has not yet been estimated, but will amount to several hundred dollars, according to Mr. Chambers.

The truck was carrying five cubic yards of gravel to a road job on Patterson avenue. The gravel was strewn over the street in the crash. Gregory stated he was bringing the load from the Verdugo quarries above Montrose and driving under fifteen miles an hour. The P. E. train was making at least thirty-five miles an hour, he said.

Bulk of German Loan Goes to Individuals

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Individual subscribers to the new German government 7 per cent bonds received larger allotments of the bonds than the investment houses and members of the syndicate, according to notices sent to subscribers by J. P. Morgan & Co., today. In order to insure a wide distribution of the bonds to permanent investors, dealers who sold a small quantity of bonds to investors received practically all the bonds they asked for. Many individual subscribers for $1,000 or less received the full amount of their subscriptions.

Threatened Uprising Is Quelled In Lisbon

LISBON, Oct. 17.—A threatened revolutionary uprising was safely quelled, police believed today, in the raid on an attorney's home here and the arrest of members of a radical revolutionary committee assembled to make final plans for the outbreak.

ROME, Oct. 17.—Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, wife of the American publisher, who is touring Europe, was received in audience today by Premier Benito Mussolini. Mrs. Hearst was introduced by Baron Sardi, one of the directors of the Fascist party.

GRATITUDE OF CUSTOMER BUSINESS ASSET

Kiwanis Club Members Hear Instructive Address by Bert Butterworth

The greatest thing in any business is gratitude, Bert Butterworth, former vice president of the Los Angeles Advertising club, told members of the Glendale Kiwanis club in an address on "The Creative Side of Business," delivered at the meeting held today noon at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. The program was in charge of the club's committee on business methods and standards, with Bert Perry as chairman.

The speaker suggested that all merchants who felt any degree of gratitude toward customers who had been loyal and expressed their loyalty by trading with them any length of time, write these customers letters in which the gratitude of the merchants was expressed.

"There are only two forces in retail business," the speaker said. "These are mechanical and emotional. Mechanical factors are such things as fixtures, location and attractiveness of the store. Emotional factors are the human beings in business, personality, salesmanship, quality and strategy."

"The mechanical factors can all be summed up in three divisions, service, variety and price. Service constitutes 12 per cent, variety 20 per cent and price 16 per cent of the business ability. The emotional factors are quality, strategy and personality. Quality amounts to 10 per cent, strategy is 24 per cent and personality is 18 per cent."

"The mechanical factors are 48 per cent of the business, and the emotional factors are 52 per cent with strategy the largest item. The buying public wants hospitality in a store. They want personality and humanity in dealings, and the store which supplies these things will be the successful enterprise."

Destructive Method. "Price never built any business worth while. Cutting prices may attract trade for a time, but this class of trade will not last. Price method of doing business and the merchant who seeks to carry on business by underselling the other fellow a few cents is only picking out his way to the poorhouse, and drawing the sheriff to his door."

"All retail merchants are important in the distribution of merchandise. Merchandise of any kind is valueless until a demand for it has been created, and it is up to the retailer to create demand."

"The best way to create demand is by advertising. Advertising does not increase the price but it does increase the demand. Wrigley spends $14,000 every twenty-four hours to create demand, but the price of gum stays at ten cents the package."

"Advertising must be truthful or the demand created will soon drop off. Any merchant

WISE MONEY PLACED ON COOLIDGE TO WIN

Plenty of Wagers Made Election Will Not Be Thrown In Congress

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Wall street odds on President Coolidge's re-election have jumped to 3 1/2 to 1, compared to 3 to 1 a week ago, according to reports current here today. La Follette has dropped to 9 to 1, while even money is being offered that Davis will beat La Follette by 3,000,000 votes, brokers report.

J. S. Reid & Co. quote 2 to 1 that Coolidge's popular vote will be as much as Davis and La Follette combined. This house also offers 1 to 3 that La Follette will get more than Coolidge and Davis combined in North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

In Favor of Bryan They report 10 to 7 that if the election goes to Congress, Governor Charles Bryan will be elected.

This firm offers even money that three states cannot be named that La Follette will carry: 25 to 1 that Bryan will not be the next president, and even money Davis will not carry ten assembly districts in all New York state's 160 assembly districts.

W. L. Darnell and company reported plenty of money at 1 to 2 1/2 on the following line-up of the candidates: Coolidge, first; La Follette, second, and Davis, third, in Greater New York. They quote $10,000 even money offered that Coolidge wins in New York state by 500,000.

Not to Congress They will pay $5000 even money that La Follette fails to get sixty electoral votes or Davis will not get 195 electoral votes.

Plenty of wagers have been placed at 3 1/2 to 1 that the election will not go into Congress.

There was some western money on the following:

That La Follette will get more popular votes than Davis in the entire country, 6 to 1; in New York state, 1 to 2 1/2; in New York city, 1 to 2. Even money is also offered that La Follette will get 5,000,000 votes in the United States.

Liquor Thieves Use Truck to Carry Loot

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17.—A band of ten whiskey thieves early today looted the Guckenheimer distillery warehouse at Freeport, escaping with bonded whiskey valued at $85,000, according to reports to county authorities.

The robbers used two trucks in the robbery and made several trips to and from the warehouse after binding guards shortly after 9 o'clock last night. They continued hauling the liquor from the warehouse until almost 3 o'clock this morning. Two alleged members of the gang were captured when they attempted to drive through Freeport with a truck loaded with eighteen barrels of whiskey.

CANTON FIRE LOSS $15,000,000, ESTIMATE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The damage by fire at Canton is estimated at $15,000,000, Douglas Jenkins, the American consul-general, advised the state department today.

MOTHER AND TWO CHILDREN FOUND DEAD

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—A mother and two children were found dead in bed here today while gas flowed from two open jets. Circumstances led police to believe the mother, Mrs. Elsie Schwindt, had plotted to take her own life and the lives of her two children, John, 14, and Elsie, 4.

NOT MANY WANT THESE SILVER DOLLARS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The government's campaign to restore 40,000,000 silver dollars to general circulation is not meeting with universal favor, it was made known at the United States treasury today. The public still favors paper money. The individual with a dollar or more to carry around doesn't like to have a pocket full of heavy "cartwheels," according to officials.

FOURTEEN PLEAD GUILTY TO TARRING GIRL

FREDERICK, Md., Oct. 17.—Fourteen members of the mob that subjected pretty Dorothy Grandon to a tarring and feathering party at Myersville last July, pleaded guilty today to the rioting count in their indictment. The pleas of guilty followed the conviction of three ringleaders in the mob—Mrs. Mary V. Shanks, whose husband had been attentive to Dorothy, Arthur Rice and Harry Leatherman.

COOLIDGE, DAVIS OR LA FOLLETTE WHICH?

David Lawrence, Completing Inquiry of States From Illinois to Pacific, Presents His Analysis of Political Situation

This is the first of two dispatches analyzing the trend of political sentiment in the states from Illinois to the Pacific, written after a visit by David Lawrence to virtually all the states in that region in a trip consuming thirty days of actual investigation.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT OF THE GLENDALE EVENING NEWS, Copyright, 1924
MIDWEST AMERICA, Oct. 17.—Crossing the political divide from the agricultural west to the industrial east, with nearly three weeks of the campaign still ahead, the territory left behind may yet show some changes here and there, but, fundamentally, the lines of battle are drawn and the tide of prejudice or favor, as the case may be, has set in.

Four conclusions, however, can be drawn at this time without much expectation on the part of the writer that subsequent developments in the west area will upset his analysis.

1 Senator Robert M. La Follette has not been and will not be the decisive factor in the coming election so far as the west is concerned.

2 The electoral vote of La Follette will be less than that of Colonel Roosevelt in 1912, when he polled 86 electoral votes.

3 In several states La Follette has taken away so many Democratic votes that he is in effect the ally of President Coolidge, because Coolidge pluralities seem certain to result from the big defection of Democrats to the third party ticket.

4 La Follette will not get enough votes to throw the election into a greater strength than President Coolidge in the principal eastern states. In that case, in all probability, the drift in the direction of Davis would insure not only a deadlock but a Democratic victory, because the east as a rule is not spotty, but generally of the same political mind.

No States of Which Davis Can Feel Sure

Giving John W. Davis the 51 votes of the normally Democratic states, which means Arizona, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Kentucky and Maryland, in addition to the 127 electoral votes obtained by Governor Cox in 1920 from the solid south, the total for Davis is 178.

Now there are no states in the west of which Davis can feel absolutely sure. Nor are there any western states, with possibly two exceptions—Wisconsin and North Dakota—of which La Follette can feel sure.

But assuming that La Follette were to be given all the states in which he is running second, these would be Iowa, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, Wyoming, and they make, with Wisconsin and North Dakota, only 58 electoral votes. Adding these 58 to the 178 for Davis, the total is 236, which may be called the non-Coolidge vote. This leaves 295 votes, and if Coolidge could get all of them he would win, as 266 is the majority of the electoral college of 531.

What are the states which make up that 295? Some, like California and Oregon and Colorado, are typical of the western strength of President Coolidge, and some, like Pennsylvania and Massachusetts and Maine, are the rock-ribbed Republican areas.

Doubtful States What Concern Analyst

What concerns the analyst is the doubtful states, or, to put it in another way, those states on which the Democrats this time pin their hopes. These are Indiana, 15; New Jersey, 14; New York, 45; Ohio, 24, and West Virginia, 8. Of these 106 votes, President Coolidge must carry all but 29. If he loses those 29 to Davis, the election would be thrown into the House of Representatives, because even if all the 29 went to Davis they would not be enough with his 178 to make the necessary 266. If he lost them to La Follette it would still mean a majority, because no one of the three candidates would have a majority.

All this would seem to indicate a close result, but it must not be forgotten that at the outset of this dispatch the writer assumed, for purposes of analysis, that La Follette might get a majority of 58 votes in the west. That was the general opinion in the east when this correspondent began his tour. It was not found to be true on actual investigation.

President Coolidge Can Win, But Will He?

For the 58 votes are imaginary and while the popular vote of La Follette will be large, this writer would not be surprised if the Wisconsin senator carried only Wisconsin and North Dakota, and these states by a close squeeze.

So the situation would appear to be 178 votes for Davis, plus about 30 for La Follette, making 208 non-Coolidge votes reasonably certain. This leaves 223 possible votes for President Coolidge. Now the president can lose 56 votes and still win. Will he? The answer is not to now and the first of November to visit Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Massachusetts, where the Democrats must get their votes to win. At the end of the tour an analysis of the eastern states will appear in these columns.

Editor H. H. Kohlsaat Passes Away Suddenly

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Herman Henry Kohlsaat of New York, famous newspaper editor, died suddenly here today of paralysis at the home of Secretary of Commerce Hoover. Kohlsaat was 71 years old. He was a guest at Hoover's home at the time of his death.

Born in Albion, Ill., Kohlsaat worked as a traveling salesman until 1891 when he became part owner of the Chicago Inter-Ocean. He was subsequently editor and publisher of the Chicago Times-Herald, the Chicago Record-Herald, the Chicago Evening Post and the Inter-Ocean.

Kohlsaat was interested in politics throughout his life and was affiliated with the Republican party. Last year he published a volume of political and historical records called "McKinley to Harding."

Five Boy Bandits Get $50,000 Loot In Bank

JACKSON, Mich., Oct. 17.—Five masked boys today escaped with probably $50,000 in cash and bonds from the State Bank of Springfield, Mich., a Jackson suburb. Eight persons, including a girl and a seven-year old boy, were locked in a vault after the robbers had knocked unconscious two men who attempted to run from the bank to sound an alarm.

BIG DIRIGIBLE MAY REACH MOORINGS BY DAWN

Craft Unable to Sail Over San Francisco Because Of Bad Weather

BULLETIN
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—Swinging inland, the Shenandoah was sighted at 12:05 p. m. today off Fort Gordo, thirty miles south of Eureka, Cal.

ABOARD THE U. S. S. SHENANDOAH, off Point Arena, Cal., by wireless to the International News Service, Oct. 17.—That the Shenandoah will probably reach Camp Lewis, Wash., its western destination, between midnight and dawn tomorrow, was the opinion expressed shortly after noon today by Rear Admiral Moffett, director of the bureau of naval aeronautics, who is aboard the giant dirigible on its transcontinental voyage.

Messages to the people of San Francisco expressing regret that the airship had not been able to sail over the city were sent by Lieutenant - Commander Lansdowne, commander of the Shenandoah, and also by Rear Admiral Moffett. In this connection, Rear Admiral Moffett said in part:

"The use of helium instead of hydrogen reduces the radius of operation of the ship. We are compelled to conserve fuel in order to insure reaching our next supply at Camp Lewis. Any delay would imperil this."

The Shenandoah is now sailing 1000 feet above the water, after going to an altitude of 4000 feet and meeting slightly increased winds."

Heavy Blanket of Fog Shuts Off View of Bay City

ABOARD THE U. S. S. SHENANDOAH, by wireless to International News Service, Oct. 17.—Not even the glow of the sleeping city of San Francisco could be seen through the thick blanket of fog when the dirigible Shenandoah sailed slowly past Farallone light, thirty miles out from the Golden Gate, at 6:15 a. m. today. Lieutenant Reginald Houghton, who was on the bridge, awakened Lieutenant Commander Lansdowne and Rear-Admiral Moffett, who were both asleep along the keel above, and it was decided that on account of the poor visibility the ship's course should not be diverted to visit the city.

Telegrams of regret were sent to Mayor James Rolph, Jr., and naval officers who were in San Francisco awaiting the opportunity of seeing the big airship.

YOUTH PLANS JAUNT IN SAILBOAT

Alain Gerbault Builds Small
Ship for Round-World
Trip All Alone

By EDNA MARSHALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—It is a strange spectacle being shown down at Woods' shipyards on City Island—all the seafaring folk, young and old, ship's captains and cabin boys, forgetting their work to help young Alain Gerbault with his last preparations for a round-the-world trip in a sail boat five times his length.

Tales of buccaners and pirates hold; of ocean rovers caring not at all for land, seeking eternally adventure; of treasure hunters and stories of spooks that infest land and sea—these may have been the lure that have led a Frenchman, only 32 years old, to dedicate his life to solitary water travel.

He has read them all. In fact, row on row they stand in the little cabin of his boat—the Fiercest. Joseph Conrad, Jack London, Edgar Allan Poe and all the other writers of such strange life and adventure tales, are represented in the small library Alain Gerbault carries always with him.

To Travel Alone
He has read them since he was a child—and loved them and read them again. Perhaps they fired his imagination and constitute a reason for the lone sea wanderings he contemplates.

Alain Gerbault does not know, and cares still less. He only knows he aches to pull up anchor and start on a five-year tour of the world, alone, with no companion sailors to help him pull his ship through storms.

He has no thought of the pirate gold his books tell him about. He has no idea of settling in a wild, uncultivated island where he might find material for writing of his own. He only wants to wander—and in a day or two he will unfurl his sail and start out for a cruise of the Pacific and South seas.

Waits for Wind
Alain is only waiting for a "perfect day" with the right sort of breeze to give him a propitious start. And in the meanwhile the residents of City Island are helping him put the finishing touches on his ship. White-whiskered men pull longer at their pipes and proudly nod their heads as they inspect improvements on the "Fiercest."

So roving is nothing new for Alain. A year ago he arrived off Fort Totten pier in his little thirty-foot sailboat. "Hello there! I'm just in from France," he said. "Gotta a place to put this stooop?"

One hundred and forty-five days it had taken him to make New York from Nice. He'd been out from Gibraltar, knocked about the waves of the Atlantic ocean for 101 days and nights. His sails were in tatters; his bowsprit was broken off and his mast was cracked from the wild sea storms he had encountered.

OYSTER SEASON IS OPEN
SAN PEDRO, Oct. 17.—Epicureans can again enjoy an abundance of fresh oysters. The oyster season opened yesterday morning and more than a score of boats belonging to the fishing fleet of San Pedro began baiting their traps with the expectation of a profitable season. Many local fishermen will operate on the coast of Lower California and about the channel islands out of San Pedro.

FIVE STEAMERS REACH PORT
SAN PEDRO, Oct. 17.—One of the biggest days in coastwise passenger trade was seen here Thursday when five steamers brought capacity loads into port. The steamers brought passengers from Seattle, Portland, San Francisco and San Diego. The Ruth Alexander from Seattle had 140 passengers for Los Angeles, according to her captain.

AUTHOR'S RANCH PURCHASED
EL CENTRO, Oct. 17.—The ranch of Harold Bell Wright, one of the show places of Imperial valley, was purchased recently by Robert Hays, pioneer of Imperial valley and former secretary of the mutual water companies. The ranch and surrounding country offered the setting for the "Winning of Barbara Worth" and other historical bits of fiction.

GROWERS SEE PLANTS
SANTA ANA, Oct. 17.—Walnut growers of Orange county were given an opportunity to witness a number of dehydration plants in operation recently when a field representative of the State Walnut Growers' association conducted the interesting demonstration. Artificial dehydration of walnuts is still in the experimental stage, but improvements during the past two years have made the process more uniform and economical.

BEAN STRAW CATTLE FOOD
SANTA ANA, Oct. 17.—Bean straw is no longer rubbish and cannot even be purchased in Orange county. For a time it was used for fertilizer, but this year every farmer is holding on to all the bean straw he has, since it has proved to be a good food for cattle.

Political Pulse

Editor's Note—This is the sixth of a series of articles written by A. S. Hall of The Glendale Evening News dealing with the political situation in Central and Middle West States, and in the South and Southwest. Material for this series was gathered by Mr. Hall on a tour of 6000 miles through Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. VII—FLOUNDERING AND FLOPPING ABOUT

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.

Colorado is running true to form in the campaign, according to observations in the mile-high state recently. Colorado, which has floundered and flopped throughout its history, is getting ready for one of its greatest flops on record.

In the twenty-four elections held since 1876, there have been twelve Republican governors elected, and twelve Democratic governors have moved into the state capitol. The same ratio holds true on presidential elections, Colorado going Republican five times and Democratic five times since 1880.

One of the bitterest political fights in the state's history is being waged in the mountain state this year. The whole state ticket, from governor down to the office of regents of the state university, will be closely contested.

Klan Big Issue
The Ku Klux Klan is the big issue in Colorado this year. Rice W. Means, Republican candidate for United States senator for the short term, admits that he is backed by the Klan, and has made no effort to conceal his presence at Klan meetings atop some of the high mountains that surround Denver, according to political leaders.

Clarence J. Morey, Republican candidate for governor, is understood to have the backing of the Klan, and the writer learned that rumor connects many candidates on the Republican ticket with the hooded order.

Means, a colonel in the war, commissioner of public safety in Denver, later city attorney, is opposed by Morris Shafroth, son of Former Senator Shafroth. Morey is opposed by Governor Sweet, who was elected in 1922, defeating Oliver H. Shoup of Colorado Springs, Republican governor for four years.

Committeeman Flops
First indication of the flopping business was seen when Clarence C. Hamlin of Colorado Springs, editor of two newspapers, and Republican national committeeman for the state, bolted Morey and Means, and publicly advocated in an editorial that it would be a crime for the Republicans of the state to support Governor Sweet, a Democrat, and at the same time vote for President Coolidge.

State Chairman Shaw was the next to officially flop, when he concurred with Mr. Hamlin, and advised the Sweet-Coolidge split. Other Republican leaders have followed, until the movement will doubtless result in crucifying Davis and Bryan in Colorado, and might have a two-edged sword effect in many spots in the state, as well as in adjoining states.

For a time it looked as though an independent ticket would be run in the field, made up of anti-Klan or neutrals, but carrying the endorsement of Coolidge and Dawes. This is not likely to happen at this late period, it is believed, and indications point to the Republican party fighting Means and Morey, but supporting Coolidge and Dawes.

Juvenile Court Fight

The struggle between Klan and anti-Klan does not end with the governorship and senatorship contests, but is particularly bitter in the race for judge of the juvenile court of Denver. Judge Ben B. Lindsey, noted jurist, who has presided in the Denver juvenile court many years, and famous as a father confessor for delinquent children, is opposed by Royal S. Graham, assistant city attorney, who, it is charged, is backed by the Klan.

Graham's backing, if rumors are true, is more than a party issue, inasmuch as it is said the Klan desires to get the mass of evidence reposing in Judge Lindsey's strongbox, and which is said to involve some of the "best" families of Denver. Judge Lindsey has guarded this evidence closely, and is making the strongest fight of his political career to further protect it.

Another interesting fight will be between Carl S. Milliken, Republican, and Dudley B. Humphrey, Democrat, in the race for secretary of state. This office has always been a seat of turmoil in Colorado politics. Alva B. Adams, Democratic candidate for United States senator, long term, who was appointed by Governor Sweet upon the death of Senator Nicholson, is opposed by Senator Lawrence C. Phipps, who has held office for a number of years.

Past Record
The state's past record in the question of governor is shown by the following: Republican governors were elected in 1876, 1878, 1880, 1884, 1888, 1890, 1894, 1902, 1904, 1906, 1918 and 1920. Democratic governors were elected in 1882, 1886, 1892, 1896, 1898, 1900, 1908, 1910, 1912, 1914, 1916 and 1922. The presidential vote shows: Republicans, 1880, 1884, 1888, 1904 and 1920. Democrats carried the state for president in 1892, 1896, 1900, 1908, 1912 and 1916.

In 1916 the state vote was 178,816 for Woodrow Wilson and 102,308 ballots for Hughes. These figures were reversed in 1920, when Harding polled 173,243 votes in the state, and Cox ran second with 104,936.

Colorado is expected to take another flop this year, according to students of politics in the state, but whatever happens, the paramount issue now in the Colorado election is Klan and anti-Klan, and the whole electorate of the state will pass on the merits of the bitter quarrel on November 4.

Automobile accessories made in Germany have dominated the market in Austria, but the recent advance in prices makes it possible that those from the United States will be purchased instead.

Los Angeles

By Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—The Hollywood bowl, a natural amphitheatre situated in the hills which has been the scene of many prominent songfests, was given to the county of Los Angeles by the owners of the property today. The gift was made with the request that the association in charge of management be given a 99-year lease on the property.

David G. Ashby, 60, a rancher living near the city, was instantly killed yesterday when his clothing caught in the machinery of an artesian well. Ashby was oiling a motor when the belt threw him against the pump shaft, badly mangle his body.

Can a man sit down hard enough to cause concussion of the brain? This is a question a jury will have to determine in a suit brought by J. B. Alatorre against the Los Angeles Railway company here for damages of $15,000. Alatorre alleges he was alighting from a street car and was thrown to the street in a sitting posture. Concussion of the brain resulted, he said.

Richard Curwood, stunt aviator for the Ben Wilson productions, is dead as the result of a 500-foot fall yesterday afternoon in the vicinity of Newhall. He lost his footing while atop a plane, it is said. An inquest is being held at San Fernando today.

Chamber of Commerce indorsement has been given the $5,000,000 county road bond issues to be voted upon by Los Angeles county electors November 4. One purpose of the issue is to eliminate grade crossings.

The Sunset Limited to San Francisco last night had one car without the usual colored porter. It contained fifty-six lions from the Gay lion farm which will be displayed at the California Industries exposition.

Federal abatement proceedings have been brought against five cafes and two rooming houses in the vicinity of Los Angeles for continued violations of the Volstead act, it is stated by Assistant United States District Attorney J. E. Simpson.

California's walnut crop totaling $14,000,000 in value has been entirely sold in forty-eight hours, with thousands of dealers clamoring for more, it was announced at the growers' association offices here today.

Rachel Y. Riveroll has filed suit for divorce here against her husband, Elfigo, whom she charges with inhuman treatment. More than $1,000,000 in community property is listed.

Former Senator Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, special counsel named by President Coolidge to prosecute the government suits to recover naval reserve lands leased during the Al-bert Hall regime as secretary of the Interior, arrived in Los Angeles last night to be ready for court sessions Monday.

WILSON DIVISION GETS ADDITIONS

Industrial Building Planned
On San Fernando Blvd.
By Realtor

Two more important additions are being made to the industrial district laid out by L. H. Wilson, realtor at 1034 South San Fernando boulevard, and bounded by San Fernando, West Garfield and Los Angeles streets. There are two buildings now under construction and another to be started soon.

One unit consists of two industrial buildings in the 500 block on West Garfield, 50x100 each, at an estimated cost of $16,000. The other will be a seven-story building at Windsor and Los Angeles streets to be erected at a cost of $25,000. Neither of the units has been leased, but Mr. Wilson says he has had a number of inquiries.

These buildings are located in Mr. Wilson's ten-acre tract and the same type of architecture is being followed as in the other building in the district. He expects to develop the entire ten acres with industrial projects, and already has several factories in operation on West Garfield street.

ASSOCIATION PLANS VERDUGO HILLS SKYLINE DRIVE

Naval Aviator Burned To Death In Crash At Glendale Airport

COMMANDER OF DIRIGIBLE ESCORT SQUADRON KILLED

Lieut. Grattan C. Dichman, San Diego, Pinned Beneath Flaming Wreckage of Ship When Craft Turns Over While Taking Off

Pinned beneath a burning airplane after it had turned turtle in the air and caught fire when the gasoline tank burst as the ship hit the ground, Grattan C. Dichman, lieutenant-commander of the U. S. Navy V. O. Squadron No. 2, North Island, San Diego, was burned to death at the Glendale Airport yesterday afternoon.

Joseph Frosio, machinist's mate and United States navy flight observer from North Island, who was a passenger in the plane, escaped with minor cuts and bruises about the face and head, when he catapulted from the mass of burning wreckage.

Lieutenant Dichman had been in charge of the aerial escort tendered the giant dirigible, U. S. S. Shenandoah from San Diego on its northward journey. Three naval planes accompanied the dirigible from the North Island field, landing at the airport earlier in the afternoon.

Started Return Trip
When the skeleton escort squadron was ready to return to San Diego, two of the planes took off and headed for the home field. Lieutenant Dichman was the last to start from the field, and the accident occurred as his plane was taking off for the return trip.

H. G. Hosford, of 233 North Central avenue and John A. Cole, 211 North Central avenue, were at the airport at the time of the accident.

"We were returning to Glendale from Burbank," Mr. Cole said today, "and in passing the airport we saw the planes were getting ready to take off. We decided to stop a few minutes. This was about 5 o'clock, and a few minutes later two of the planes took the air. During this time I talked with Lieutenant Dichman, and he said he expected to be back in San Diego in an hour and fifteen minutes."

Caught On Roof
"The aviator went to one end of the field, preparatory to taking the air. Just as the machine was heading into the wind it seemed to turn sideways. One wing caught on the roof of a hangar, slid along the roof tearing off part of the sheet iron, then turned turtle and fell to the ground. An explosion occurred as it hit the ground and it immediately broke into flames."

Mr. Cole and Mr. Hosford, assisted by the injured mechanic, attempted to right the plane and reach the pilot, but were prevented by the weight of the machine and the intensity of the flames.

Mr. Hosford gave a very vivid account of the accident and said that the plane "kicked" by Lieut. Dichman had gone to the north end of the field, turned and was making the run to take off, but seemed slow in taking the air, apparently trying to avoid the power wires. When it finally rose in the air the plane was nearing the hangar of Dr. T. C. Young, Glendale physician and aviator, he said. The plane seemed to go into a side slip, he said, swerved sharply to one side and the right wing caught on the hangar roof.

While the mechanic, Mr. Cole and Mr. Hosford were attempting to pull the tail of the burning plane to one side to reach Lieut. Dichman, a second explosion occurred, and the rescue party was forced to abandon the attempt.

Mr. Hosford said: "There were also two 16-year-old boys on the

U. S. Government May Put Out Order Against Use Of Glendale's Airport

The fatal airplane crash at the Glendale Airport yesterday afternoon, which claimed the life of Lieut. Grattan C. Dichman, naval aviator, and resulted in a government plane being totally wrecked, is the seventh crash at the field since the power wires were strung, according to flyers who are familiar with the airport. In addition to taking a toll of one life, the damage to airplanes in these seven crashes will exceed $50,000 it is said.

For several months there has been a controversy between members of the City Council and the aviators who use the airport over the removal of the power lines on the south side of the field. Efforts have been made to have the wires put underground to insure safety and eliminate accidents.

Yesterday's crash may result in the United States government passing up all possibilities of using the Glendale airport as a landing field and western terminus of the Salt Lake-Los Angeles air mail service, it is said. Chamber of Commerce officials and Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson have been endeavoring to get the postoffice department to designate the Glendale airport as the landing field for mail planes, inasmuch as it is close to the San Fernando road, and mail could be taken into Los Angeles in short time by truck.

The death of Lieutenant

Dichman will result in an independent government investigation in an effort to determine officially the cause of the accident and affix the blame. Should the government investigators find that the field was faulty, it will be placed on the "taboo" list, and navy and army flyers forbidden to land at the Glendale airport until the defects are remedied, it is said.

Lieutenant Dichman, according to witnesses, was endeavoring to "make altitude" sufficient to clear the wires at the end of the field at the time of the accident. He had taxied to the north end of the field, turned and started south, with the intention of taking off quickly enough to "hop" over the wires, it is said. Trees on the north end of the field, which cause cross-currents and rough spots in landing or taking off, can only be avoided by taking off at the south end, aviators who use the field say.

PASTOR TO REPEAT RECENT ADDRESS

Seventh-Day Adventist Elder Speaks Tomorrow Morning By Special Request

At the service to be held tomorrow at the Seventh Day Adventist church, corner of California avenue and Isabel street, the pastor, Elder R. W. Parmelee, will repeat by special request his sermon, "Why Was Job Afflicted?" given last Saturday at the Glendale Sanitarium chapel. A large attendance is expected. The meeting will begin at 10:45 a. m.

On Sunday night 7:30 o'clock a special course in Bible study will be begun. Studies will be conducted in an informal way, and those attending will be at liberty to ask questions and suggest subjects to be considered. The course will be continued throughout the winter.

'Slush Fund' Hearing Suddenly Adjourned

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—The Senate campaign committee investigating alleged "slush funds" of the major political parties adjourned today subject to the call of the chairman.

William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, was questioned concerning the original plan for conducting the Republican campaign and corroborated the testimony of William V. Hodges, committee treasurer, given Thursday, that a $3,000,000 budget had been considered necessary to accomplish the election of the Republican national ticket. Approximately half of this estimated sum had been collected to date, the remainder, he said, the committee hopes to raise.

Motorist Fined For Using Police Siren

Earl R. Grammer of 406 West Elk avenue was fined $50 this morning by Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court, for using a police siren on his car on October 15, in violation of the California vehicle act.

AIR SERVICE ASKS FOR PATRONS

Glendale Behind Its Quota To Insure Mail Carried By This Route

Necessity of patronizing more liberally the air mail service is again called to the attention of Glendale merchants and manufacturers by Howard I. Wood, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Results of the campaign so far have been disappointing and the city is far short of its quota of 35 pounds a day.

Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce fired the opening gun in a campaign to bring direct air mail to Southern California at a luncheon when Luther K. Bell, traffic manager of the air service, told those present air mail service should be obtained now, not years hence when it may be in no particular need of patronage.

Full Quota Necessary
If Southern California can mail 500 pounds of air mail daily a plane would fly from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City and connect there with the ship flying between San Francisco and New York. At present Southern California air mail is sent by train to San Francisco.

Mr. Wood said that if Glendale, Los Angeles and other cities can reach their quota, Glendale business interests would be on a basis of equality with those of San Francisco and other Northern California cities.

"Every resident of Glendale and every business man owes it to Glendale to support this service and obtain for Glendale and Southern California the same patronage and improvements enjoyed by San Francisco and Northern California," stated Mr. Wood.

Dr. Ferris Addresses Communion Week Meet

Communion week meeting of the men of the Presbyterian church was held in the Social hall of the church last night, about 150 being present. A pork-turkey dinner was served under the direction of M. P. Harrison and L. Finkbeiner. After a short program of music Dr. Lincoln L. Ferris, the new pastor of the First M. E. church, called the meeting's attention to each one's individual task in life, as exemplified by the life of Christ, proving this was the great need of the hour in all walks of life.

Women In Charge of La Follette Meeting

Women of the La Follette club of Glendale will have charge of the meeting Saturday night at the headquarters, 108 North Brand boulevard. The women's club met last night to complete plans for the program, which will include songs by a quartet; speech by Mrs. J. Noel; selection by life and drum corps; address by Mrs. O. G. Thompson; music. Mrs. Black is to preside, and ten women and two gentlemen will be the reception committee. All members and friends are invited to attend.

Three Prizes Awarded Daily by W. H. Hooper

Among the hundreds of motorists who visited the William H. Hooper service station yesterday, three were particularly lucky, for they received special prizes. They were Charles E. Murphy, 169 South Central avenue; R. E. Holmgren, 335 Ivy street; H. D. Haam, 231 1/2 North Brand boulevard. The special offerings made at this popular station this week provided big attractions, adding many new patrons to the countless friends who trade each day with Mr. Hooper.

PROJECT TO ADD TWELVE SQUARE MILES TO CITY

Newly Organized Group Inspects Mulholland Highway and Decides to Construct Road Surpassing in Scenic Splendor

Approximately twelve square miles of the Verdugo hills are to be added to the city of Glendale and a scenic "skyline" drive sixteen miles long is to wind from the north end of Brand boulevard to Michigan avenue at Sunland, if plans carry that were launched last night by a group of seventeen property owners gathered at the Oakmont Country club for dinner.

A tentative organization called the Verdugo Hills Crestline boulevard association came into being, with M. Walters of the Barnum-Walters Co., Sparr Heights developers, president; Harry Hanson of Los Angeles, owner of a large tract of this hillside acreage, vice president, and T. W. Watson, chairman of the Glendale Planning commission, secretary-treasurer.

Committees Appointed
The chair was authorized to appoint an executive committee comprising these three officers and four additional men, and to name a committee to perfect the boundaries of the proposed annexation district, a committee to consider the engineering phases and a membership and finance committee.

Organization of this association was preceded by the adoption of a resolution that Verdugo Hills west of the Los Angeles city line and following the La Cresenta-La Canada line, be incorporated into the Glendale municipal area. Petitions to this effect will be prepared and presented to the Glendale City Council at the earliest possible moment, it was decided.

Highway Inspected
The dinner meeting and organization came as the culmination to an afternoon spent as the guests of DeWitt L. Reaburn, construction engineer of the Mulholland Highway department of Los Angeles, inspecting the boulevard skirting the tops of the Hollywood hills from Los Angeles to Calabasas.

Mr. Reaburn explained that Mulholland Drive cost approximately $4 a foot to build, or $25,000 a mile. It is twenty-four miles long, and will be surfaced forty feet wide when complete. No grade is over 7 per cent and nearly every curve has a 150 foot radius, the party was told. Work was started October 9, 1923, after a bonding area of 55,000 acres had voted $1,000,000 for the work. When the project is completed, there will remain of this amount approximately $200,000 for maintenance.

Meeting Enthusiastic
The beauty of this drive, with its panorama of San Fernando valley on the east, the coast cities in the foreground and the Pacific on the west, will be excelled only by the vistas offered when the proposed skyline drive through the Verdugo Hills is completed, it was the opinion at last night's meeting.

"I have always been in favor of this project and will help in every way possible to put it across," said Councilman S. S. Gilhuly.

"I am exceedingly enthusiastic over this proposition. It is the greatest thing that ever happened to Glendale," said Councilman C. E. Kimlin.

"The Mulholland Drive over the Hollywood hills turned $3 an acre stuff into $3000 an acre stuff and the Verdugo Skyline Drive will do the same thing for our territory," stated M. Walters.

"These hills must be developed as a unit or other approaches will be developed to the detriment of the whole," T. W. Watson pointed out.

FLYER KILLED AT GLENDAL E F I E L D

Lieut. Com. Dichman Burned To Death When Plane Upsets at Airport

field, said Mr. Hosford, but they disappeared shortly after the accident.

Two other planes of the squadron were already in the air. They circled over the field for some time, then landed and the flyers helped get out the body of Lieut. Dichman. His body was in a sitting position and apparently he had been strapped in his seat.

When the plane fell it struck a corner of the city water pumping plant which caught fire. A call was sent to the fire department and apparatus from station No. 3 responded. The damage to the pumping plant was about $50. The plane was a charred mass of wreckage.

Proske was taken in an auto to the Burbank hospital but later removed to the Glendale Research hospital.

Ralph E. Dodsworth, captain in the fire department, is inclined to think the tail stick of the plane hit some obstruction on the ground as it was taking off, which threw it to one side. There was also some criticism of the crew of a Southern Pacific freight train which ran over a line of hose strung across the tracks. A flagman had been placed by the fire department, but the locomotive engineer disregarded his signal. Two other trains were flagged before they ran over the hose.

The remains of Lieut. Dichman were taken to the L. G. Soever mortuary and will be shipped to San Diego for interment. Little is known of Lieut. Dichman and the officers of the other planes, Lieuts. V. H. Schaffer and F. M. Mail, North Island, San Diego, could give no information except that he was married and leaves a family in San Diego.

Two Aviators Meet Death As Result of Crash In Air

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 17.—Funeral arrangements were being completed here today for Chief Machinist's Mate Robert Kerr and Ensign M. J. Flanders, attached to the transport Vega, killed late yesterday in a mid-air collision over Coronado, of two planes from the naval air station on North Island.

According to word from the naval station the accident happened when the plane piloted by Kerr and carrying Flanders as a passenger, plunged from out of a cloud bank on to another plane driven by Gunner William Cole, who barely escaped with his life when he leaped from his falling machine and glided to earth at the end of his parachute. Cole, however, was badly bruised by the impact when the parachute opened after he had fallen more than 500 feet.

At the time of the crash Cole's plane is said to have been going 115 miles per hour. Kerr's falling plane struck a residence as it neared the ground and practically demolished it.

Property Owners Plan New Mountain Drive

Mr. Walters surprised the gathering when he stated there were left in the city of Glendale only 8000 lots and that these are being built up at the rate of 105 structures a month, which will exhaust the entire supply in six or seven years.

M. V. Hartman of Tujunga stressed the duty incumbent upon the property owners to do the right thing by the Verdugo Hills, for coming generations. Perry Whiting, in giving his support to the project, stated he has changed his will to deed 500 acres of his holdings in Tuna Canyon to the city of Glendale for a park.

The following were present: M. Walters, H. E. Barnum, M. V. Hartman, F. W. W. W. Watson, Councilmen S. S. Gilhuly and C. E. Kimlin, W. H. Reeves, Harry Hanson, L. H. Grady, Fred Reinecke, L. H. Wilson, H. N. Fowler, Edward Lynch, Will Chapin, Perry Whiting and R. S. Saunders.

L. A. EXCHANGE

By Southland News Service

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—Oatman Gold provided the excitement this morning for traders on the Los Angeles stock exchange when sellers unloaded a lot of the stock on the market. Opening at $17, it rode down to $14.50 before stopping and closed at $15, after much activity.

Telluride selling at $6 and Richmond at $3.50, with the exception of one lot of 5000 shares at $3.87 1-2, showed the mineral market otherwise firm.

In the oils some indications of uncertainty were found, with Julian common selling down 1-2 at $3 and preferred holding firm at $12.50. Globe Petroleum opened at $2.50 and was selling at noon for $3. Union Oil of California opened at $12.50 and dropped 1-2 point. Union Associates was firm at $37.37 1-2.

Other stocks were firm and lightly traded, Edison common holding at $100 and Los Angeles Investment sitting still at $3.80. In the bonds, Edisons were the leader, with San Joaquin Light and Power issues also active, but lightly sold.

GARMENT SALE AT FASHION CENTER

Store Prepares for Annual Selling Event; Starts Tomorrow Morning

In anticipation of early buyers Saturday morning at its "October garment sale," the Fashion Center, 202 South Brand boulevard, today made special preparation for efficiently caring for its patrons.

More than 100 new dresses received yesterday by the firm direct from New York City were unpacked and placed on the racks ready for inspection, according to Michael McKinnon, one of the proprietors.

In addition, new shipments of coats and various other seasonable garments go on sale tomorrow in this annual "October garment sale," he said.

It was further explained that the "October garment sale" is a special event each year with the Fashion Center and a sort of a red letter occasion, during which profits for the time being are forgotten, and the friends and patrons of the store are in consequence benefited. As compared with usual selling prices, the price tags show a discount of 25 to 50 per cent, asserted Mr. McKinnon.

Forum Dinner Assured Co-operation of Clubs

Forty reservations have been taken by the Rotary club for the forum dinner next Monday at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse at 6:30 p. m. and twenty-nine by the Exchange club. William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Los Angeles water department, will be the speaker.

The Glendale Realty board appointed a committee this week to bring out a record attendance of realtors at the dinner and this committee is meeting this afternoon to complete arrangements.

Constipation is ruinous to children—keep yours healthy with Kellogg's Bran

'Constipation undermines a child's health. It saps his energy and makes him listless. It can lead to more than 40 other serious diseases. Mothers should take immediate steps to remove, safely and surely, the dangerous poisons from his system.

Kellogg's Bran—because it is ALL bran—brings permanent relief. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. That is why Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is universally recommended by doctors. They know it brings results.

If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to give permanent relief in the most chronic cases of constipation, or your grocer returns your money. Kellogg's Bran acts on the intestines exactly as nature acts. It sweeps and cleans and purifies them. It makes them function naturally and regularly. It allows you to discontinue forever the use of harmful, habit-forming drugs and pills.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is a delightful surprise to the taste—particularly if one has tried ordinary unpalatable bran. Kellogg's Bran has a delicious, crisp, nut-like flavor—an exclusive flavor. It is most enjoyable with milk or cream, sprinkled over other cereals or cooked with hot cereals. Try it in bread, muffins, griddle cakes and other recipes given on every package.

Have your children eat it regularly—two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Kellogg's Bran is made at Battle Creek and sold at all grocers. It is served in individual packages by the leading hotels and clubs. Ask for it at your restaurant,

COOLIDGE SAFE SAYS PUBLISHER

Ex-Editor Fresno Republican
Returns From East With Political Report

Chester H. Rowell, former publisher of Fresno Republican, who has just returned from a two months' trip in the east believes the nation as a whole is safe for President Coolidge in the coming election. Further, he predicts California, as understanding increases as to the significance of the campaign issues to this state, will give Coolidge a veritable landslide.

Mr. Rowell will be the principal speaker at a Coolidge-Dawes rally tomorrow night in the Trinity auditorium, Los Angeles. In a statement given out through the Coolidge-Dawes Republican campaign headquarters, Rowell stated:

"Every vote in California should be cast as if that were the deciding vote of California, and as if California were the deciding vote of the nation. It is, indeed, not impossible, though it is less and less probable, that this might happen."

Coolidge Landslide
"But while I think this note of caution and responsibility is necessary for California, I do not wish to be understood as considering the final result in doubt. In fact, all my observations and all the reports I have received from others, convince me that there is going to be a Coolidge landslide. New York, as I have said, is certain for Coolidge."

"I have reason for expressing absolute confidence that the same is true of New Jersey. The traditionally pivotal states of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, while the situation in each of them varies on account of local contests, are for Coolidge."

Big Majority Assured
"It is absolutely certain that most of them, and nearly certain that all of them, will return Republican majorities. This situation assures the election of Coolidge, even against the most extreme claims of the Socialists in the northwest. Against any probable results there it means a landslide. I look on the situation with enthusiastic optimism."

"But I nevertheless enjoin caution. Neither Davis nor La Follette can win, and Coolidge cannot win by a scratch. It is either a big victory for Coolidge or no election of anybody. And California, once more, is the focus of a unique responsibility in that situation."

NOTED INVENTOR PAID HIGH HONOR

Bricklayer Gave to World
Material Called Cement
Century Ago

With the approach of October 21, the day upon which Joseph Aspdin, a century ago, was granted a patent for a material he called "portland cement," there comes to mind the growing importance of the part played by that English mason's "artificial stone" throughout our transportation progress, and its share in making this country known as "a nation on wheels."

One-hundred years ago, MacAdam and Telford, countrymen of that English bricklayer who invented portland cement, were working on the types of stone roads that later were to make their names famous in the highway field. But those same types, then far in advance of practice of that day, have in turn given way to improvements and finally to entirely new types, chief of which is that made from the same rock, but with the rock pieces bound firmly together with portland cement.

Road Dust Used
It is of interest that Aspdin, in his experimenting, utilized the dust from limestone roads as the source of lime for the mixture that he thoroughly pulverized and burned into cement-clinker, which was then finely ground and known as portland cement. Today, over 20 per cent of the cement made in this country is used in making dustless roads and streets of concrete.

In commemoration of the work of Aspdin, the Portland Cement association recently presented a bronze tablet to the city of Leeds, England, the birthplace of the inventor. The tablet was unveiled in England in September in connection with the Cement Centennial celebration in England.

PARIS, Oct. 17.—Many afternoon costumes now are bursting forth into an epidemic of pleats. But these pleats are in clusters and the clusters gathered into jabot or panel effects, in order to mitigate, but not mar the straight line silhouette.

Comment

By GIL A. COWAN

The death of an aviator and the injury of his mechanic at the Glendale airport has proved the contention of local flyers that the field has hazards of an unusual nature.

If aviation is to be developed here where atmospheric conditions are ideal, it would appear essential that the city take measures to reduce the hazards even if it be necessary to spend some real cash.

Lieut. Commander Dichman of the United States navy, who lost his life last evening, was an enthusiast for the local field. But this will not be true of his successor in choosing safe landing places unless remedial measures are taken immediately.

It is true that aviation is without the sphere of the average layman, and, while he applauds the feats of fearless fliers, he thinks little of their lives. Little does he appreciate the fact that airplanes are going to be America's first line of defense. And this same layman scoffs at those who are fortunate enough to have the money to buy airplanes and aid in the peaceful development of factories which build flying machines.

But the time may come when each and every one of us will be glad to hear the hum of motors overhead bearing the insignia of the army and navy, or air division of the government, should it be established.

By the way, Glendale builders want to show a little more activity this month in order to keep up the average for the year in new construction. Many projects are under way and other major contracts are being prepared, but the October figures are not what they should be to, date. C'mon, let's build!

A visit paid the orange empire this week by the writer revealed that despite the drought the citrus trees are loaded. The nutting season in the walnut groves also is in full swing. With another refreshing rain the southland will enter into its beautiful winter season which is so loved by eastern tourists. Fortunate indeed is the Glendale home which will entertain friends and relatives from "the old home."

And if you haven't the time to write them just send along copies of The Glendale Evening News.

EXPERT TELLS OF BRAN PROPERTIES

System Requires Balance
Wheel; This Cereal Serves
Purpose, Is Claim

By MARY I. BARBER
Of Home Economics Department of Kellogg Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
We hear lots about bran these days and many people talk as though it were something new. Our grandmothers were acquainted with it, but it went out of fashion, and was for many years relegated to the attic. Recently, bran has been brought down, given a thorough dusting, and polished to show its worth.

Constipation is universal and the use of bran is one way to fight this condition. There is nothing else which dulls the eyes, deadens the skin, and takes away ambition in the same measure as a clogged system.

Common Causes
The common causes of constipation are sedentary living, too little water and faulty food habits. The first may be overcome by taking exercises night and morning at home, if your life does not permit out of doors sports. The second may be righted by remembering to take a drink every time you pass a fountain or faucet. The third is more complicated because many of us do not plan our own meals.

An excellent balance wheel is bran. Choose all bran rather than a mixed cereal, and include it in your daily menu. It may be eaten as a cereal, sprinkled in soup, mixed with fruit, or eaten baked into muffins.

Bran is a good food because it is a laxative both through its fibre content and its minerals. The former absorbs water and furnishes bulk, the latter stimulates the movement of the bowels.

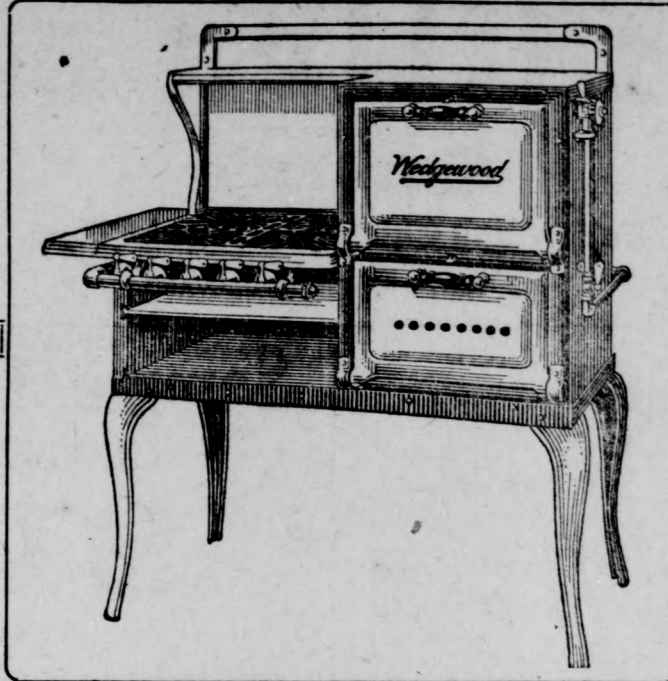

Bran Brittle Recipe
Following is a nutritious candy recipe which has laxative value, called Bran Brittle: 2 cups granulated sugar, 1 cup brown sugar, ½ cup light corn syrup, ½ cup water, ¼ cup butter, ½ teaspoon salt, 1½ cups all-bran.

Put the sugars, corn syrup and water into a sauce pan and cook, stirring until the sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking, without stirring, until the temperature 300 degrees F. is reached.

Remove from fire, add salt and butter; and stir only enough to mix well. Add all-bran and turn at once on a greased slab or on a greased inverted pan or baking sheet. Smooth out with a spatula. After about a half minute, take hold of the edges of the candy and lifting it slightly from the slab, pull it as thin as possible. Break into irregular pieces.

MURPHY SHOW TO OPEN IN BURBANK

Comedians to Start Sunday Night; Get Permit for Six Months' Stay

The Murphy Comedians which appeared for some time in Glendale, will open Sunday, October 19, in a tent at Cedar street and San Fernando road, Burbank, with the comedy, "The Girl from Home."

The Murphy Co. had some difficulty getting started in Burbank as the City Council there could not agree on the license fee and the length of time to grant a permit. However, this was adjusted Tuesday when a six-months' permit was given.

The show is under the management of J. Warren Davis, a showman of fifteen years' experience and long identified with similar propositions in San Francisco, Oakland and other bay cities. Vim Moore, an old friend and associate of Mr. Murphy, is the stage director. The same prices will prevail as when the show was in Glendale and the tent has been made comfortable by the installation of gas radiators. The bill will be changed weekly. The company invites its thousands of friends in Glendale to see the shows.

MONTROSE NOTES

MONTROSE, Oct. 17.—Usherettes dressed as gay Spanish caballeros showed about 600 enthusiastic people to their seats at the opening of the new Montrose theatre last night. Theodore Belanger, president of the Montrose Amusement Co., stepped onto the stage at 8 o'clock, making the opening speech, introducing in turn James Brown, president of the Montrose Chamber of Commerce; C. A. Haskins, treasurer of the amusement company and president of the Montrose State bank, and Supervisor Wright, all of whom made short addresses on the foresight of the men who had made the new theatre possible. Manager Doyle was introduced and told of the aims of the management to give the public pictures they not only will enjoy, but their children as well. Through efforts of Mr. Belanger, Stephen Meyers, Mark S. Collins, George Carson, C. L. Mead, C. A. Haskins, H. F. Anawalt and Ralph Doyle, Montrose's new theatre was made possible.

The program opened with an International News reel, followed by a clever Dutch dance, done by Miss Alma Kerr and Norma Kalk. The new Wickes organ was played by Prof. Bartley Sims of the Mission theatre in Los Angeles, while the illustrated solo was heartily encored. Dance Militaire showed to advantage the clever technique of the two little dancers, who responded to many encores. The dance numbers were accompanied by Arthur Crowell at the organ. "Potash and Perimutter" was the feature film.

Baskets of flowers from the following firms were received by the management: California Equipment Co., Montrose Chamber of Commerce and the Montrose Pharmacy. There will be a matinee on Saturday at 3 p. m., when "Empty Hands" will be shown. An "Our Gang" comedy and Travelogue will be added.

Montrose Bakery has changed hands, and the new owner, C. Spies, promises to keep up the old standard of quality baking. Mr. and Mrs. G. Stone, former owners, left this morning for an auto tour to Washington, where they will spend some time in Bellingham and Seattle before their return.

Fifty Clubwomen at Arts and Crafts Meet

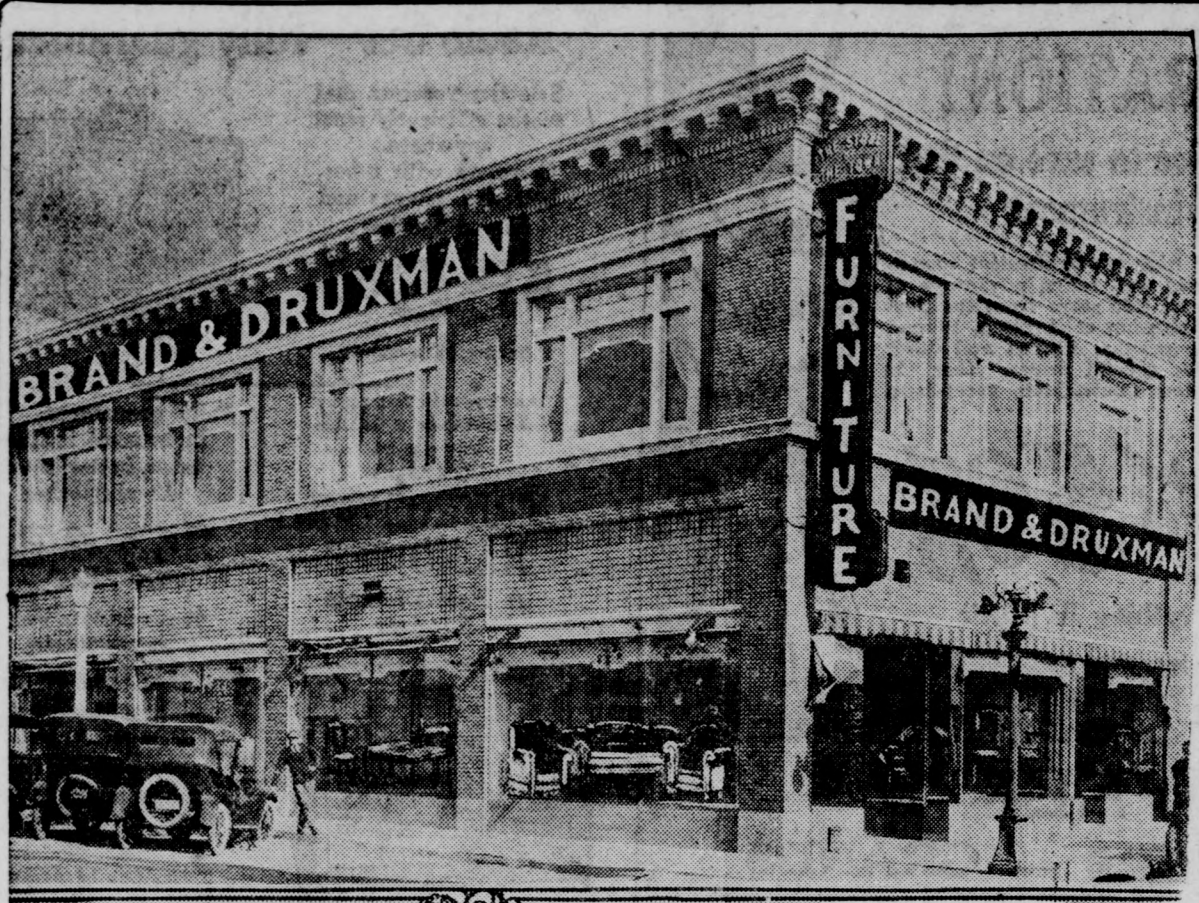

Fifty Tuesday Afternoon club women attended the first meeting yesterday of the arts and crafts department at the clubhouse. Mrs. Estelle Brain is curator. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock and time was devoted to making articles for the November bazaar.

"Glendale's Own Home Bank"

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Oct. 17.—From 2 to 8 p. m. tomorrow women of St. Luke of the Mountains guild will hold a bazaar in the basement of the new church at the corner of Michigan and Rosemont avenues and between one and two hundred articles have been prepared for sale which include lamp shades of parchment and silk, besides bags, aprons, baskets, books, bulbs, plants and kitchen articles.

There will also be a cooked food booth for which members have provided home-made dainties of every sort. Everyone attending is assured an afternoon of fun. Refreshments will be served. Many new members were taken into the Verdugo Hills Merchants' association at the meeting held at Hillside terrace. Matters of importance were discussed. New firms now on the roll are Valley Lumber Co., Jack Mathison, Valley Sign Co. of Montrose, B. T. Burgin, Cleaner, and the Oakmont Service station. Mr. Vandewater, secretary of the Los Angeles Credit association, will speak at a future meeting.

Employees Figure In Bank of Italy Plans

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—Featuring the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the Bank of Italy, known as the greatest chain banking system in the west, it was stated that employees of the institution will eventually own the controlling interest in its capital stock. James A. Bacigalupi was named president while A. P. Cianini, founder, continues as chairman of the executive committee.

JURIST SPEAKS AT CLUB LUNCH

Judge Collier Tells Members Parents Are Responsible For Youthful Crime

Judge Frank C. Collier of the Los Angeles Superior court addressed members of the Optimist club of Glendale today at their luncheon on "Youthful Criminals," commenting on the fact that over 70 per cent of the crimes committed today are the work of men under twenty-five years. The meeting was held at the Masonic temple, 232 South Brand boulevard, Dr. H. R. Boyer, president, presiding.

Parents are as much responsible for youthful delinquency as the children," Judge Collier said. "If boys and girls were kept home at proper hours, there would be less crime in the country today. All too many boys and girls never hear the name of God except in vain. Our coins bear the words 'In God We Trust,' but we fail to live up to that high ideal. If we are to preserve the nation we must devote as much attention to the spiritual as to the material side of life."

"The job of a judge on the Superior bench is a constructive job. I believe in probation. We should offer the delinquent boy or girl every help we can. It is better to have a citizen than a felon. Parents should make pals of their children. We were all young once and had our temptations. The greatest responsibility lies with the parents and if they were to be sent to jail for the crimes of their children, there would be very few crimes."

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—There were few traces in the stock market today of the weakness and reactionary movements which marred the situation in the early part of the week.

Trading was still in smaller volume. Buying demand was not spread widely over the speculative list. But prices were uniformly higher all over the board. High priced industrial leaders advanced briskly from 2 to 5 points.

A factor of importance in the stock market was the decline of call money to 2 per cent, following the completion of a number of important financing projects and the return of funds to the banking institutions. Discontinuance for the time being at least of the campaign of the barish interests in Wall street removed one of the largest forces of selling and also induced buying for the covering of shorts.

Less was heard today of election scares. The oil stocks were again the leaders in the upward movement of prices, but they were followed at no great distance by the railroad, the motor and later the copper stocks.

American Water Works made its best showing after the directors announced their decision to recommend to the stockholders a proposition to split the stock, "five for one," changing the par value from $100 to $20. General Electric and American Can are two companies in which similar action is expected. Both of these stocks were strong today, General Electric at 24 1/4, being about five points above yesterday's low.

There was good buying today in the dividend stocks of Standard Copper, Motor Equipment and Industrial stocks of the type of Kennecott Copper, Allis-Chalmers, Corn Products, American Smelting, Studebaker, Westinghouse, Utah Copper, etc. Stocks of this class showed gains of from 1 to 2 points in selling prices. Studebaker got back to 39; Willys-Overland preferred gained 2 points at 66; Allis-Chalmers 1 1/2 at 57 7/8; Corn Products, freed from heavy liquidation, was again on the upward path.

Interest returned to the rails on publication of the proposed regrouping of eastern roads into four powerful systems, but the demand was not sufficient to cause any marked advance in any of these issues. Atchison led the high priced rails with an advance of 1 1/4 to 105 1/8 and Erie was in demand about 1 point higher.

Back and Both Legs Broken As Result of Accident In Los Angeles

Norman J. Begg, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Begg of East Euallia street, is in a serious condition in a Los Angeles hospital, suffering with a broken back and both legs broken, injuries received yesterday when he was helping move an electric switch weighing 1500 pounds at the Safety Electric Products Co., where he was employed as shipping clerk. It is stated that attending specialists considered Mr. Begg's condition most grave last night, but this morning gave a little hope that he will recover. His injuries resulted in paralysis from his waist down.

who deliberately misrepresents an article in his advertisements, or in dealing with a customer is not going to stay in business long."

President A. L. Baird presided at the meeting. He announced that the next zone meeting would be held in Glendale next Monday night and at that time a candidate for lieutenant, governor would be chosen. He suggested the name of Lyman Clark as the club's candidate. President Baird named Frank Fox, D. H. Smith and W. G. Lauderdale as members of a committee to check up the by-laws and report at the next business meeting.

Season Tickets

Norman Hayhurst, coach at the Glendale Union High school, spoke on season tickets the school is selling. These tickets are good at all athletic contests staged by the school during the year, he said. William Bode, in reporting on the Halo-Kiwanis parade, said Brand boulevard would be cleared, Kleig lights would be placed along the line of march, and the best parade ever staged by the club would be held.

J. Arthur Myers, who directs the community singing at the meetings, urged the members to attend the concert to be given tonight at the Broadway High school by the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra. A. L. Ferguson, vice principal of the High school, outlined plans for the open forum meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Monday night, and announced thirty-six members of the club had made reservations. The attendance prize, donated by Guthrie Boyd, was won by W. P. Kaufman of Burbank.

Tories Lead In Fight For Parliament Seats

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Although nominations will not close before noon tomorrow, it seemed probable today that the Tories will have thirty-two seats uncontested, the Laborites sixteen and the Liberals nine.

In thirty-three constituencies where labor candidates won by small pluralities in the three-cornered contests in last year's election, only the Tories are fighting the Labor nominees this year, by agreement. In return, the Tories have withdrawn and left the field to the Liberals against Labor in eleven constituencies. This situation is certain to affect Labor's strength.

It is expected the final tickets tomorrow will show 1400 candidates contesting for 615 seats, 540 Tories, 500 Laborites and 360 Liberals.

Mountaineer Confesses Murder of Stepfather

ROSEBURG, Ore., Oct. 17.—Fred Parazoo, 23, tall, mangy mountaineer, is held in jail here today, following his confession to authorities that he killed his stepfather, James G. Snyder, 35, with a rifle. Parazoo, according to his alleged confession, shot his stepfather during a quarrel at their home at Peel, near here, yesterday. Parazoo said they argued over some meat and vegetables which he insisted Snyder owed him for work about the farm.

"He made a move to get his gun so I shot him with the rifle I was carrying," was Parazoo's explanation to authorities. Officers said they intended filing a murder charge against Parazoo.

City and County Will Prosecute Shoemaker

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—Prosecution by both city and county officials loomed today for Samuel Goldberg, a shoemaker, charged with furnishing liquor to high school students at fancy prices. A large quantity of gin and whisky was found in his repair shop.

MAY RECEIVE OFFER

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—Probability that General Lansing H. Beach, recently retired from the army at Washington, D. C., where he was chief of the engineering department, will be offered the position of chief engineer of Los Angeles harbor was voiced here today.

After making some personal investigations into the social conditions of Glasgow, Scotland, an English author proposes to publish his findings under the title of "The Cancer of Empire."

RALLY DAY IS
CHURCH

Methodist Sunday School of Casa Verdugo Campaign
For New Members

Old and young of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church are to be included in the big rally day planned by the Sunday school for this coming Sunday. Every activity of the church is to be featured and it is the intention to have the day marked with increased attendance and renewed interest. The rally day idea is to dominate the Sunday services and other services throughout the week.

O. M. Newby, superintendent of the Sunday school and member of the official board of the church, in his announcement said:

"We want the word carried to our friends and neighbors of North Glendale and Casa Verdugo that we are really a community church and extend a very cordial invitation to all who have no church home or who may find it more convenient to worship with us, to do so. Our most heartfelt desire is to serve this community. We have need of workers in the Sunday school and those who have talents along this line can do nothing more worthwhile than to offer their services in this great work."

"The Sunday school today is the greatest factor we have for the making of moral character and if we could have a real re-awakening on the part of parents to this fact it would be the beginning of a better day. To the parents let me ask that you take this interest in your children and that you bring, not send, them to Sunday school. The Sunday school is one place for the whole family. Unless you are a dead one we have need of you. We are pleading for the Sunday school and when we plead for it we plead for the best interest of your children, of you, your community, your state and your nation."

Cafe Manager Denies
Any 'Expensive Kisses'

The "expensive kisses" that caused M. Witmark & Sons of New York to bring suit against a Glendale restaurant for $250 damages were not indulged in at the Egyptian Village cafe, 133 North Brand boulevard, despite a story to this effect carried this morning by a Los Angeles newspaper, said Albert E. Cawood, manager.

The story, which appeared, under the heading, "Cafe Sued Over Kissing Song," related that Witmark & Sons had filed suit in the United States district court yesterday, alleging "the Egyptian Village cafe in Glendale" used the song, "Kiss Me Again," without properly recompensing them under their copyrights.

ADVERTISING IS AID TO BIG LOAN

Use of Newspaper Space to Gain Public Confidence Proves Helpful

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 17.—The startling heavy over-subscription of the German loan in America could never have been possible had it not been for financial advertising. That statement was made to the writer today by Gaylord S. Morse, president of the Financial Advertisers' association, now in convention here.

He explained that through financial advertising, thrift, and saving and safe investment had become so much a part of the life of the American people as to put them in a position to invest huge sums when they saw opportunity to do so.

Advertising helped "Financial advertising," he said, "has introduced the banker to thousands of prospective customers. It has enabled them to get together and do business. It has demonstrated that the old-time idea of the banker with a long face, a long coat and ice water in his veins who took his customer's right eye and tossed it in the vault as security, is as obsolete as the stage Irishman or the Dundreary Englishman."

"Advertising has established confidence and has brought out the individualities of banking organizations, which, being made up of men, have personalities just as men have theirs. All banks render fiduciary service of some sort. This is a service which justifies an extended campaign of education of the public."

Stresses Newspaper "Intelligent investment is the cornerstone of such service. It is not a game to be played by the ignorant or inexperienced. Our advertising should not be directed to capitalists already made when much more can be done to mark the course for the wobbly feet of the misguided and unsophisticated. We have no business to be in business demanding public confidence if we are not genuinely interested in the other fellow's aspirations."

Mr. Morse laid special stress on the value of the daily newspaper as a medium through which confidence could be established with the public as a whole and predicted that financial advertising would grow tremendously. He declared his own estimate of $120,000,000 as the total of the amount spent in advertising annually by banks in America was extremely modest.

BUILDING PERMITS

Building permits for October reached $418,530 at noon today, bringing the total for the year to $8,273,436, according to figures in the office of H. C. Vandewater, building superintendent. Following is the list of permits issued since noon yesterday:

Glendale Development Number

The marvelous growth and development of all branches of business in Glendale the past few months are indeed worthy of recognition by the citizens of this rapidly growing city.

The Evening News, co-operating with public institutions, clubs, the Chamber of Commerce, the Realtors, the Automobile association and the merchants, will issue a development number of The Evening News the latter part of October.

This special number has been in process of preparation for the past month, and persons who have not been at their places of business when Mr. Bink, the compiler of this development number, called, should phone Glendale 4000, and this gentleman or another representative of The Evening News will visit them for advertising and publicity.

DEATHS - FUNERALS

M. W. LEECH
The many friends of Mrs. C. H. Leech of 344 West Oak street will be sorry to learn of the death Wednesday night, October 15, 1924, in Topeka, Kan., of her father, M. W. Leech. Mr. Leech had been in poor health for several months. Mrs. Leech spent two months with him in the spring. Other relatives of Mr. Leech in Glendale are: sister-in-law, Mrs. W. S. Stahl, and a brother-in-law, J. M. Humbert. Mr. Leech had resided in Topeka for many years and was active in religious and political affairs. In addition to the above relatives he leaves his wife and three sons, all of Topeka.

MRS. MARY LOCKLIN
Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Locklin, who died Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Russell, 332 North Kenwood street, will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Memorial park, Rev. C. R. Norton officiating. Jewel City Undertaking Co., directors.

JOHN LEWIS SHELTON
John Lewis Shelton died Thursday, October 16, 1924, at 1161 Elm avenue. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Fannie Shelton. Mr. Shelton was a native of Ohio. Funeral services will be held at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the L. G. Soeven chapel on South Brand boulevard. Interment will take place in the I. O. O. F. cemetery in Los Angeles.

MRS. L. C. YEOMAN
Mrs. L. C. Yeoman, prominent W. C. T. U. worker of county and state, died yesterday afternoon, October 16, 1924, at her home, 601 North Jackson street, at the age of 54 years. News of Mrs. Yeoman's death, which followed an illness of two months, came as a great shock to her many friends, and cast sadness over the state W. C. T. U. convention now in session in Pasadena.

In her hearty support of prohibition Mrs. Yeoman had served as county president of the W. C. T. U. She was prominent in the Glendale W. C. T. U. and in the First Methodist church. She was an active Republican. She was a native of Ontario, Can. Surviving her are her husband; a brother, L. W. Crandall, and two sisters, Mrs. C. P. Keefer and Mrs. T. M. Gray of Canada.

Previous to residing in Glendale, Mrs. and Mrs. Yeoman lived in North Dakota, and then in Anaheim, Cal.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Methodist church and the W. C. T. U. will have charge of the services. Interment will be made in the mausoleum in Forest Lawn Memorial park, under direction of the Jewel City Undertaking Co.

Legion Notes

By Special Correspondence

Active steps toward world peace will be foremost in the program of the American Legion for 1925. State Commander Nathan F. Coombs of Napa declared, after a conference with national Legionnaires, National Commander James A. Drain is to appoint an American Legion world peace committee of ten to consider all factors in the present world situation and study plans of organization now working for peace. A report on the most practical plan whereby the influence and power of the Legion may be effectively utilized for securing permanent world peace is to be made at the next national convention.

Immediate steps to keep the United States navy on a parity with the British in the 5-5-3 ratio and to place the battle fleet on an equal footing with the strongest navy in the world in gun range and power are advocated as a national insurance measure against war. The Legion will urge a plan to make the profits out of war to lessen the possibility of international conflict.

Merlin W. Porter of San Jose, winner of the $1000 American Legion scholarship prize in 1922 for the best essay on Americanism has entered Stanford university. The prize was given by the California state department of the Legion and was contested for by

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, Oct. 17.—Nomination of candidates for vacancies on the board of directors and consideration of an amendment to the constitution of the Chamber of Commerce were two subjects which were accorded a large share of the attention of the largest attendance in the history of the Tujunga organization at the October meeting. Ten men were nominated for office. If the amendment proposed, laid over until the next meeting, carries, their services will not be required, as the amendment proposes to eliminate a board of directors from the organization, delegating their powers to the members. Wallace M. Morgan proposed the amendment, the text of it being:

"That the constitution and by-laws of the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce be amended by striking out the words 'director,' 'directors,' and 'board of directors,' wherever the same may occur, together with all the sections or parts of sections providing for their election and defining their duties and powers and by the addition of the following section:

"Section — All powers not herein expressly delegated to the president, vice-president, secretary or treasurer are reserved to the members of this chamber to be exercised directly by them or to be by them delegated to such special or standing committees as in their discretion they may from time to time create."

Leon Carr, vice-president of the chamber, nominated for reelection the board members whose terms are expiring this month. They are: H. H. Bredt, Roy Brooks, Ed Forster and C. H. Conway. Others nominated were: Carroll Parker, George Aiken, Bruce Anawalt, J. H. Kautz, E. C. Miller, J. W. Russell, M. F. Gilmer, Jesse Baughman, Bruce Anawalt and E. C. Miller withdrew their names.

As a result of a vote taken at this meeting the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce will remain a co-operative unit of the valley round table composed of Valley Center and Sunland representatives and will be host at the meeting of that body next Monday night at the Tujunga school auditorium.

President Bredt was authorized by vote to appoint a committee to have a fire-break built along the ridge of the Sierra Madre hills from Arroyo Seco to the Big Tujunga canyon.

Harry Zachau was appointed to obtain dumping grounds and arrange for garbage collection and disposal.

The chamber went on record as opposed to the $500,000 water power act to be voted on next month and endorsing a resolution by the Fullerton-Chamber of Commerce which denounced the proposition. Over 100 new members have been voted into membership since the September meeting.

Tomorrow a public opening reception will be held by the new Tujunga-Sunland agency of the Fowler Automobile company in the new quarters just completed in the Fischer-Zachau building, 131 West Michigan avenue. Music and refreshments will be dispensed to all visitors. The building has been completely remodeled into an attractive salesroom with service quarters in connection where Chevrolet cars will be sold.

Thousands of students in the schools. State Commander Nathan F. Coombs and State Adjutant James K. Fisk of the California American Legion are in Southern California for a week conferring with the leaders of the ex-service men's organization there on matters of policy to be followed during this year. Committee appointments will be made by Commander Coombs following his visit to the south.

California communities through their American Legion posts may secure an additional distribution of world war trophies or new ones, if they have never made application for mementoes taken by capture during the war, from the United States government, immediately, according to an announcement made by James K. Fisk, state adjutant of the Legion.

The distribution of the trophies for local exhibition and exhibition purposes in community parks will be made by either Governor Richardson or Adjutant General Mittelstaedt, according to Adjutant Fisk, who is prepared to transmit requests to the war department. Members of the American Legion post of Marysville are going to build a natatorium and present it to the city as a municipal project, with the provision that profits from the swimming pool shall go to develop a playground adjacent to the natatorium.

CONSTIPATION OVERCOME
The use of FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS will bring speedy relief from constipation if taken promptly. They are purely vegetable and act on the liver. Mr. John D. McComb, Lucas Co., Home, Toledo, Ohio, writes: "Have used FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS in severe cases of constipation to which I am subject and found them beneficial." FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS are easy to take, leave no unpleasant after effects. Try them.

From Staff Correspondents of International News Service

By ALICE LANGEIER
For International News Service.
PARIS, Oct. 17.—Paris soon will have to create a museum for the relics that are placed daily upon the Unknown Soldier's tomb under the Arch of Triumph. Flowers are removed when faded, but marble slabs, stelae and bronze palms are lasting, and what is more, many are the gifts of famous personages and worthy of being preserved. These offerings now number 400 and are piled up in the little room of the Arch of Triumph, where the body of the Unknown Soldier was placed, awaiting the completion of the tomb. A few have been taken to the Chapel of St. Louis, in the Invalides, where visitors may see the stela offered by the King of Egypt, two elephant tusks given by the heir to the throne of Abyssinia, and the Crown of Thorns presented by the Armenian public.

A "Grass Widow society" has sprung up in Prague, a novel organization which aims to unite all the divorced women of Czechoslovakia. There are said to be 27,000 of them in this country. They feel they need protection. A lawyer will be employed to help women seeking divorces, and a monthly divorce magazine will be published. Men will be allowed to join the society—only the good ones.

"Who'll buy my chestnuts at one sou apiece?" This is what the swarthy chestnut roasters are now demanding. Winter has made its appearance, and, with it, the picturesque Auvergnats from the south and the Spaniards from the Basque country. They are ravaged by a curious disease, which broke out forty years ago among the Basque chestnut forests and has spread through France, Italy and Spain with such rapidity that the nut crop threatens to disappear. The Japanese variety of chestnut trees which will replace them will bear larger nuts, but much dearer ones. A sou apiece is a fabulous price for Frenchmen who remember when a big sack, large enough to warm the hands with, could be had for three or four pennies.

Gypsy music is being heard in the gay city of Budapest. Since October 1 the cafes are allowed to keep open all night, if they like, as in pre-war times. Severe restrictions of recent years have caused some of the larger ones to close forever, and other business establishments have taken their place. The new ruling will mean a gayer capital and increased employment for many musicians.

A swarm of bees got into trouble with a pastry-maker in the Rue des Gobelins. His shop has been persistently invaded by the bees, which eat his dainties and leave without paying. Finally the proprietor discovered that they came from the garden of the Gobelins Tapestry manufactory, which belongs to the state. The bees have brought about a lawsuit, and somebody will have to pay the damage.

Interesting archaeological discoveries have been made in the course of excavation work being carried out in Paris, in preparation for the laying of new tramway lines and the piercing of new tunnels. While constructing a new sewer in the Rue Neuve Saint Pierre, workmen unearthed a number of human bones, five sarcophagi and numerous pieces of very old pottery. Work at a private house in the Rue de Valenciennes brought to light a leaden coffin containing the skeleton of a young man who lived in the current once on this spot. A Jewish cemetery of the thirteenth century was revealed at the corner of the famous "Boul Mich" and the Boulevard St. Germain. It was very likely abandoned in 1306, when Philip IV exiled the Jews. The Carnavalet museum is all the richer for a Hebrew funeral column, which was found in a perfect state of preservation.

A suggestion for "wet" countries comes from Constantinople, where drinking is tolerated in certain streets and strictly prohibited in others. There are "wet" streets and "dry" ones, and the government, which seems to think of everything, has placed the former very near the police stations.

DOBINSON PLAYERS

"The Country Cousin" will be offered again tonight and tomorrow night at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre at 8:15 o'clock each night, with a 2:30 o'clock Saturday matinee, states Miss Eva Daniels, business manager.

Booth Tarkington is the author of the popular novel from which this play was adapted to the stage by Julian Street. Its success in New York and elsewhere has been phenomenal and it has come to be regarded as one of the outstanding plays of the generation.

Gertrude Keller and Richard Ehlers, who have the leading roles, more than repeat their success, scored in "A Prince There Was," the initial Dobinson Players offering. The supporting cast has been carefully selected by Mrs. Florence Dobinson and comprises players of broad experience.

Apple Shipments to Europe Gain Ground

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 17.—The movement of Pacific Northwest boxed apples to Europe, continues to gain ground. Good markets have been found in the United Kingdom, Scandinavia, Germany, Belgium and Austria, which are taking mostly the smaller sizes the Atlantic Coast markets spurn. All prices are firm.

Corn Crop of Illinois Falls Below Last Year

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 17.—The Illinois corn crop after recent frosts, now is estimated at 279,819,000 bushels, or 57,000,000 bushels under last year. Killing frosts shortened the yields somewhat in northern sections but what is maturing the crop, where less severe, in the central and southern sections.

Gulf Coast Decreases Its Oil Production

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 17.—Average daily oil production in the Gulf Coast and South Texas fields the past week, was 147,245 barrels, a decrease of 4,475 barrels for the Gulf Coast and an increase for South Texas of 930 barrels. Thirteen new producers were brought in on the coast.

THE GATEWAY

Famed in poetry and in prose, the historical ride of Paul Revere was never before invested with the significance, the thrills and the daring that it is in D. W. Griffith's "America," the romantic epic of the War of Independence.

Which will have its premiere at the Gateway theatre today at 8:15 o'clock Saturday. And Mr. Griffith's picture gives the lie direct to Longfellow's poem on the ride, for, while the poet stated that "Hardly a man now alive remembers that famous date and year," the vociferous applause which greets every hoofbeat of Revere's horse shows very well that women and children, as well as men, remember Paul, his steed, and the occasion of their journey very well indeed.

THE T. D. & L. Buster Keaton in "The Navigator" shows at the T. D. & L. theatre today and tomorrow.

THE GLENDALE "The Fighting Sap," with Fred Thomson, is the feature at the Glendale theatre today and tomorrow.

Twin Cities Show Big Bank Deposit Balance

ST. PAUL, Oct. 17.—Purchasing in the ninth federal reserve district last week was the heaviest this year, bank debits in twenty cities totaling $242,867,000, an increase of 25 per cent over a year ago. Further evidence of the trade gain in recent weeks is shown by the 25 per cent increase in Twin Cities bank deposits as compared with a year ago. Retail trade has been greatly stimulated by steadily cool weather. Wholesale trade continues to show increased activity, although grain threshing has not yet been completed, owing to rains. Staple lines in particular are enjoying a volume of sales slightly larger than a year ago.

Silver Salmon Catch Unprecedented Size

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 17.—Silver salmon are retelling in the local market at 15 cents a pound owing to an unprecedented run for this season in the waters of Puget Sound. Cold storage plants are working overtime increasing the catch for local and eastern consumption.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily was sitting, half asleep, in his hollow stump bungalow one day, when he heard a voice saying to him:

"You may come with me if you like, Uncle Wig!"

At first the rabbit gentleman thought this might be the Fox, the Wolf or the Bob Cat trying to trick him into going to one of their dens again, so the bunny cried:

"No no! I don't want to go."

"Oh, but if you will come with me I'll let you have half of my lollypop," went on the voice. By this time Mr. Longears had opened his eyes, and he saw Baby Bunty standing before him.

"I'm so glad it's you, Bunty!" laughed the rabbit uncle. "I guess I was dreaming of the bad cats. But where do you want me to come with you?"

"Let's go hippity hop to the lollypop shop," sang Baby Bunty. "I have a penny to spend and I'm going to buy some candy and I'll give you some."

"Thank you very much; I shall be delighted to go with you," spoke Uncle Wiggily with a low and polite bow of his twinkling nose. So away he hopped with Baby Bunty, the little rabbit girl, over the fields and through the woods. They had not gone very far before, as they came near an apple orchard, they heard a queer voice crying:

"Goo-goo-goo!"

"Oh, goodness! Let's run!" said Bunty.

"No, it sounds like some one in trouble—we must help them," said Uncle Wiggily.

Looking around the corner of a tree, Uncle Wiggily saw, on the ground, a large bird, with a long, sharp slender beak. And the bill of the bird was thrust through a hard apple so that the bird could not get the apple off his beak, nor could he open his mouth.

"Who are you, and what's the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggily, though he guessed what had happened.

"Goo! Goo! Goo! Goo!" was all the bird could answer, not being able to open his mouth.

"Oh, I see! You want me to take the apple off your beak," spoke the bunny. The bird nodded. "Yes" with his head, and when the rabbit had pulled the apple off the bird opened his mouth and sang:

"There was a Fat Man from Bombay. He sat smoking his pipe one hot day. When a bird called a Snipe, flew away with his pipe, which vexed the Fat Man from Bombay."

"Oh, then you are the Snipe, I think," said the bunny.

"I am," was the answer, "and I thank you for taking the apple off my beak. It fell on my bill stuck there as I was sleeping under the tree. You did me a favor and I hope some day, I may do you one."

"Pray, do not mention it," said Uncle Wiggily, politely. Then he and Baby Bunty hopped on to the lollypop store, and they were almost there when, all of a sudden, Bunty dropped her penny down a crack in the boardwalk.

"Oh, my penny is gone!" she cried.

"I'll get it up for you," said Uncle Wiggily. But the rabbit couldn't reach the penny. The crack in the boardwalk was too small for him to put his paw down in, and even too small for his rheumatism crutch.

"Oh, how can I ever get my

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE SNIPES

"I'll get it for you," suddenly called a kind voice, and along flew the bird called a Snipe. He thrust his long, slender bill down the crack between the boards, and picked the penny up in his bill. The Snipe put the penny in Bunty's paw. "Now you can buy your lollypop," sang the bird. And away flew the Snipe to give back the pipe to the funny Fat Man from Bombay.

"Oh, goodie!" Thank you, Mr. Snipe!" laughed Bunty, and she gave her rabbit uncle some of the lollypop, making him very happy. And if the feather duster doesn't fly away with the cake of soap when the gold fish wants to wash its face, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the chestnut.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

"Dear Doctor Peters:—I am enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ten cents in stamps for the booklet on reducing and gaining. I am overweight and wish to reduce, but am nursing my baby. Does that make any difference?"

"My baby's navel sticks out so that I am afraid he will hurt himself if I let him cry. He is eight weeks old and it is very hard to make him wait two or three hours for his feeding. I believe he should go three hours at his age. I give him boiled water between feedings two or three times a day, but even then he doesn't want to wait. Do you think he will hurt himself if he cries? He is very hard for such a little baby. He is not small for his age. He weighed eight pounds at birth and now weighs 13½ pounds. I would appreciate any advice you can give me.—Mrs. L. M."

We have had articles on reducing while nursing the baby, so I won't go into detail. I will simply say that you can reduce without harm to the baby, and with benefit to him. You should omit from your diet the excess bread and butter, sweet desserts, candy and oily foods. Don't forget that you must have about a quart of milk a day or its equivalent in custards, cottage cheese, cream soups, etc.

It is quite normal for a baby's navel to have a little button effect. That doesn't mean there is a hernia. If there is a hernia there is a separation of the abdominal muscles so that the intestines can be felt under the skin and there is a good sized bulge, especially when baby cries. Hernias often correct themselves as the child develops and his muscles grow. If they do not correct themselves by the time the child begins to play games, an operation has to be performed. Meanwhile, it is advisable to have an adhesive strap across the abdomen. Don't put a button over the navel under the strap, for it has the effect of preventing the opening from closing. That is just contrary to the result you want, of course.

It is best to have a physician show you how to do the strapping, but in case you cannot do that, take an adhesive strap about one inch wide and long enough to cross the abdomen. Attach it to one side, push the muscles together and then attach it to the other

Wed At Sunrise

A sunrise wedding took place at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial park this morning, Friday, October 17, 1924, at 6:30 o'clock, when Mrs. Ruth E. Stone, of Glendale, was united in marriage to Ernie B. Pajot, of Canada. Dr. Riley Russell, of Eagle Rock, performed the ceremony. The bride wore a suit of blue pique with a tan silk hat and accessories to match. Her bouquet was a corsage of roses and sweetpeas. Mrs. O. P. Graham was matron of honor and wore a dress of green broadcloth trimmed in tan and black and a hat to match. She wore a corsage of sweetpeas and roses. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Ida Templeman sang "Oh, Promise Me." The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Veda Marsh. After the bride party had arrived at the chancel, Mrs. Templeman sang "Love You Truly."

Following the wedding a breakfast was served at the Alley Inn for twelve guests. Mr. and Mrs. Pajot left later this morning for Catalina island, where they will spend their honeymoon, and on their return to Glendale reside at 601 East Lomita avenue, where they will be at home to their friends after November 1.

Mrs. Pajot is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Martin, of 901 East Lomita avenue, and for the past two years has been employed as stenographer at the Harrower Laboratory. Mr. Pajot came here recently from Canada where he is now employed as a mechanic in Los Angeles.

St. Mark's Dinner

Associations among parishioners of St. Mark's Episcopal church were renewed for the fall and winter last night at a most enjoyable dinner served by the Guild in the Guild hall to 150 persons. Mrs. B. O. Holbrook was general chairman of the affair, and among those who shared with her in the evening's success were Mesdames A. A. Bassett, Grace Rowsey, Susan Hill, Minnie Gaurapp, Albert Red, John Potter, Alice Metzner.

Rev. Philip K. Kemp, rector, spoke briefly after dinner, introducing as speakers Mrs. Bertrand Stevens, wife of the bishop coadjutor of the Los Angeles diocese; Dr. George Cornell of Pasadena; and R. E. Tucker, Mrs. Stevens' old friend. The rector's aims of the Girls' Friendly lodge in Los Angeles. Dr. Cornell, who served for some months as rector of St. Mark's, greeted his old friends. Mr. Tucker gave a talk on "The Church and the Community."

Hold Food Sale

Plans for a food sale to be held in Warren's flower shop, corner of Kenwood and Broadway, on November 8, were made at the meeting of the northeast group of the Women's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church, held yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Kennedy, 327 North Belmont avenue. Mrs. S. Z. Boicourt and Mrs. Simmons were in charge of the sale. Orders for doughnuts and mince pies will be taken. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Ed Lee, leader of the group. Mrs. S. Z. Boicourt gave a splendid report of a recent district convention of missionary societies of Southern California held in Los Angeles. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostesses with the assistance of Mrs. Stanley. The next meeting will be held November 20 in the home of Mrs. Drug at 309 North Belmont street.

Select Officers

Mrs. Ernest J. Morgan was chosen first vice-president, and Mrs. John W. Sharpe second vice-president of the Thursday Afternoon club, at the club meeting yesterday at the Tropic Presbyrian church. They will succeed Mrs. C. H. Whitney, resigned, and Mrs. Carrie Campbell, who is now president. Yesterday was work day for the club members, and after the luncheon the time was devoted to sewing for the December bazaar, and for the Children's hospital. The meeting of the club on the first Thursday of November will be with Mrs. A. L. Bancroft at 1423 South Brand boulevard. Mrs. Kemper Campbell will tell of her recent European trip, and Mrs. Powell of Los Angeles will sing.

Named Chairman

Mrs. G. O. Piercey is to be chairman of magazine subscriptions for the year for the Tuesday Afternoon club. Renewal of old subscriptions or new subscriptions are to add a certain per cent to the fund raised by the ways and means committee, and Mrs. Homer D. Lockwood, chairman, is anxious that any Glendale people desiring to subscribe to any magazine call Mrs. Piercey at Glendale 743-J or get in touch with Mrs. A. A. Barton at the clubhouse.

ATTENDS DINNER

California Art club members attended the monthly dinner held at the Otis Art Institute in Los Angeles last night, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cotton, Mrs. Roy Balogh and Mrs. Lillian Hounsell being present for the gathering. Guests of honor at the dinner were: Mrs. Constance Peters, a noted artist who recently returned from Europe; Phinister Proctor, of Hollywood, well-known sculptor, and Martin Justis, illustrator.

Twins' Birthday

Hugh and Dean Bryant, twin sons of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Bryant of 524 North Maryland avenue, shared honors last night, when their parents entertained with a stag dinner at their home in celebration of their twenty-third birthday.

Mrs. Bryant, who was assisted by her aunt, Mrs. William Richardson, had arranged a delightful decorative scheme for the home and the birthday dinner table. Virginia creeper, roses, and other flowers hinting of the autumn season, were used in profusion. In addition to the floral feature on the table, Halloween favor baskets were used and the place cards, instead of hearing the names, had couplets and conundrums descriptive of the guests. By reading the cards the guests found their places. A four-course dinner was served, with Hugh and Dean Bryant occupying places of honor at either end of the table. After the dinner songs were sung, and boyhood and school days talked over.

The company included Russell Tummel, Walter Beach, Owen Bair, Hollis Moyle, George Bowersocks, Robert Blackburn, Owen Schwallier, Millard Fischel, Dr. Bryant, Albert, Hugh and Dean Bryant.

The Bryant twins have lived in Glendale twenty years, attended and graduated from Glendale school and have a wide circle of friends here.

Discuss Projects

Beautification of the grounds and the purchase of encyclopedia and reference books for the library are two of the projects discussed yesterday at the Columbus Avenue Parent-Teacher association at the school. Mrs. C. H. Bird, president, and other officers were greatly gratified over the attendance of ninety school patrons at the meeting. Miss Vesta D. Bigelow, Mrs. J. S. Hayward and Miss Lorraine Mitchell were named a committee to investigate books for the school library. Plans were announced for a book sale October 24, and for a benefit social affair November 8 at the Bird home, 505 Pioneer drive.

Readings were given by Mrs. Canfield; Mrs. Lura Jennings Burris gave vocal solos; and Miss Edith M. Burleigh of the Guild guided the luncheon. The delightful social affair was her valuable talk on child training.

Women of Church

Meetings of the Aid society and the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church were held at the church yesterday, the aid meeting in the morning with luncheon at noon, and the missionary society meeting in the afternoon. The morning was devoted to sewing, tying comforters and making aprons to be sold at the next luncheon. Mrs. Avey, Mrs. Davaport and Mrs. W. E. Hollins were in charge of the luncheon. At the missionary meeting, Mrs. J. C. Kerrins of Los Angeles gave an interesting and inspiring report of the annual branch meeting of missionary societies held in Stockton recently. Mrs. John W. Cotton and Mrs. R. C. Jones sang a duet "Speed Away." The next meeting of the missionary society will be a luncheon and afternoon meeting on November 6.

Birthday Affair

The birthday of I. B. Carlock, of 415 Lincoln avenue, was the occasion for an enjoyable gathering held last night at the family home. Mrs. Carlock had prepared a delicious dinner which was served at a table decorated in Halloween colors, placecards and favors. The birthday cake with candles was orange and black. The diversion of the evening was five hundred. Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Noyce Grant of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. George Watson and daughter Ruth, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brown of Glendale.

Successful Tea

Patrons and friends of the Pacific Avenue Parent-Teacher association attended the benefit tea given at the home of Mrs. A. R. Holland at 438 West Maple street yesterday afternoon. A short program including musical selections and readings was presented. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in playing five hundred. Delicious refreshments were served later by the hostess. A series of benefit affairs are being planned for the association this winter.

P-T. A. Affair

Mrs. H. Spradling, president of the Glendale Federation, Parent-Teacher association, announces that all Glendale women planning to attend the First District conference next Thursday at Whittier, should send their luncheon reservations at once to Mrs. G. B. Kennard, 526 Ocean View Lane, Whittier. The tickets are to be seventy-five cents each, but money does not need to accompany reservations.

Entertains Club

Members of the Double Six Bridge club were entertained yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Rose McLaughlin on Isabel street with a luncheon served at 1 o'clock. Bridge was the pastime for the afternoon, with three tables in play. Miss Eva Brehme has awarded first prize and Mrs. Hartman received second prize. The club will meet with Mrs. J. McGowan next Thursday afternoon.

HENDERSON PREDICTS TOUGH BATTLE WITH AGGIES

'GLOOMY GUS' AND TEAM REST UP

Trojan Coach Hopes for Dry Field for Tomorrow's Game at Portland

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 17.—Hoping for a dry field, and predicting that one of the toughest games on his schedule was before him, Coach "Gloomy Gus" Henderson went on a sight-seeing tour with his squad of thirty-four players today to rest up for the clash with the Oregon Aggies tomorrow afternoon on Multnomah field.

The Trojans had planned a workout today, but Henderson changed the order in favor of a complete relaxation after the long train jaunt.

Dry weather, Henderson states, will aid his team. He is likely to get his wish for prospects were for a crisp, bright day.

The big beaver squad, under Coach Schissler, arrived at noon from Corvallis. The Aggies planned signal drill, kicking and passing for this afternoon.

Stanford Meets Oregon; California Plays Olympics

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—Two football games of unusual interest will be played in the bay region tomorrow afternoon, when Stanford meets the University of Oregon in the first conference contest of the present season for these two eleven, and the University of California tackles the strong Olympic club of San Francisco in what promises to be a real test for the Blue and Gold.

Both Stanford and California will not be at their full strength tomorrow, according to word coming from the two campuses. Jimmy Dixon, one of the Bear backfield mainstays, will be out of the game with a sprained ankle. Dixon has been doing most of the kicking for California this season.

Mitchell, Cuddasack and Johnson of the Cardinal lineup will be on the bench tomorrow with injuries sustained during scrimmage practice this week. To make matters gloomier, Ernie Nevers, the famous Card fullback, will be still out of the game on account of a dislocated ankle.

All indications point that Oregon will give Stanford a run for the honors tomorrow, and likewise the Olympic club has a fair chance of downing the four years undefeated Blue and Gold.

Idaho Vandals Play Washington Cougars

MOSCOW, Idaho, Oct. 17.—A bristling battle, with each team conceding an excellent chance to win, was predicted when the Washington State college Cougars meet the Idaho Vandals here this afternoon.

Washington State is out to atone for its 14-to-13 defeat by Gonzaga. Idaho will throw all power into the struggle in an effort to keep a clean card in the Pacific Coast conference race.

Idaho is without the services of Quinn, brilliant tackle, and Kinnison, halfback. Coach Exendine has made vital changes in his backfield, sending in Bill Kramer and Charley Sweet in place of Hales and Waldorf, in order to get more speed.

Army-Notre Dame Game Draws Heavy

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—A sell-out, with more than 60,000 fans in the stands, was predicted today by those in charge of arrangements for the Army-Notre Dame football game at the Polo grounds tomorrow. The entire cadet corps of 1400 will be present, arriving in New York the morning of the game.

They will be preceded by the team, which is scheduled to leave West Point this afternoon in time to arrive in New York at 6 o'clock.

Baseball Czar Denies Series Scandal Closed

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—K. M. Landis, "czar" of baseball, has returned to his office here denying the world series a closed incident. "It is silly to think this incident is closed," he said.

When asked whether he was in a receptive mood if additional evidence is unearthed, he said "you bet I am."

Landis, however, pointed out that no additional evidence, with the exception of that announced in Washington and New York, has been found.

Neither did the commissioner offer any verbal blasts about Ban Johnson or Barney Dreyfuss. "I am tired," he said. "The series was filled with dramatic incidents."

Johnson is reported as remaining in Excelsior Springs, Mo., but he is due back Monday. Since his original challenge to the "ruler," he has been silent.

They Tied Last Season

Things are going to be different this year, declare leaders of the Princeton and Navy teams as they lined up today for the annual struggle on the Tiger's home grounds. The 1923 score was 3 to 3 after a hard fought battle.

FOR GAME'S SAKE

By LAWRENCE PERRY
Special Correspondent of the Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 17.—What about Marquette? Since the football eleven of this institution went to Annapolis last Saturday and smothered the Navy team this question has been pretty much of a national topic.

The first reaction of the average football follower who knows nothing about Marquette—other than the obvious fact that it is playing high-grade football—is likely as not to be a shrug. "Another big game hunter," "Going out and getting 'em."

In the interest of the intercollegiate sport and for other reasons the writer is happy to correct the impressions as set forth, wherever they may exist.

Back in 1920, when the writer last was in Milwaukee—and, as it happened, upon rather a romantic mission—Marquette was an institution of one building and a football eleven which the writer saw defeated by some equally obscure team.

The Marquette of today, a huge group of splendidly designed stone buildings, housing medical, dental, law, liberal arts and various other institutional departments, suggests to the visitor who knew the old Marquette something closely akin to the miraculous. Fifty thousand citizens turned out to welcome the team back from Annapolis—which shows pretty clearly how the Cream City feels about its own magic university. Marquette is a Jesuit institution, but is open to all creeds and sects. One-fourth of the students are Protestants—150 Methodists are listed in the various schools, nearly 100 Congregationalists, fifty Jews, and so on. The registration is slightly more than 5000.

With two exceptions, the entire football squad is composed of Wisconsin boys, although the university draws heavily from North and South Dakota and Minnesota, as well as from the home state. As regards eligibility for the various varsity athletic organizations, including football, the same standards are applied as exist in the western conference, with the exception that freshmen outfits may play outside games.

Admission to the university is based upon certificate from recognized high schools and secondary schools or, lacking this, upon entrance examinations. There is more chance of a ringer being inducted into the football eleven at Marquette than at Wisconsin. It would be too much to say that no proselytizing is done, but if it is done, it is as carefully concealed and as sporadic as it is among the Big Ten of the West, the Big Three of the East, or any other group.

Marquette draws athletic material from the Catholic secondary schools, just as does Notre Dame, and this is something of an asset. But the Milwaukee college recognizes its obligations in behalf of sport decently organized and cleanly played. There is no reason why it should not be an increasing force in this respect in this region. Frank Murray, the coach, is a

Some ties that bind may be blessed, as a well known hymn suggests, but two of the biggest football teams in the east are ready today to do heroic battle on the grid to break a tie.

The two teams are Princeton and the Navy. A year ago these two teams clashed and when the final whistle blew at the end of a gray fall afternoon the score stood 3 to 3.

It was the nearest the Tiger came that fall to whipping an important opponent. Yale and Harvard had left the jungle beast dragging himself off the field. Notre Dame, out of the west, had changed the ferocious Tiger into a tame little pussy cat.

The teams meet at Princeton today and both are banking on settling last year's score by winning.

A "home boy" is leading Princeton this year and an Ohio lad the Navy. Ed Stout, captain of Princeton, hails from East Orange, N. J. Taylor comes from Lima, O.

Stout bears the sociable second name of "Coffin," which ought to make him sure death on the grid. He is a brilliant player. His work at end last season was one of the high spots of Princeton's disappointing year. He gave a good account of himself in both the Harvard and Yale games. He was president of the junior class last year and is one of the popular heroes of the campus. He is also one of the most brilliant hockey players in the east.

Taylor played a bang-up game at left end for the Navy last year. He was in the thickest of the battles with Army, Penn State, Princeton, Colgate and Washington university.

Navy tied the Army in a scoreless game, lost to Penn State 23 to 2, beat Colgate 9 to 0 and then went to the coast on New Year's day and played a 14 to 14 game with the University of Washington.

Tommy Carter, Frankie Farren Meet Tonight

Tommy Carter and Frankie Farren are expected to furnish the major portion of the excitement tonight at the American Legion boxing show in Hollywood. Charley Sullivan and Eddie White will mix in the semi-windup. Nate Slott and Willie O'Brien will step in the special spot.

Other events on tonight's card will be: Kid Ponce and Sid Boniface, 120 pounds; Mark Parlock and Johnny Leason, 125 pounds; Mickey White and Young Nino, 118 pounds, and Johnny LaRose and Kid Chilli, 115 pounds.

Tufts man who never played football at his college. He came to Milwaukee as assistant to Jack Ryan, now coach at Wisconsin. He has laid out not only the grounds, but erected the structure of a sound and victorious system of football. He is also a full professor of economics and is regarded as one of the ablest teachers at the university. Freeman Fitzgerald, his line coach, is a Notre Dame product, and Lloyd Scott, the other assistant, hails from Colgate.

SPORT WISDOM

By WALTER CAMP
Special Correspondent of the Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Here is a summary of some of the vital and tender spots in the anatomy of prominent football teams as they stand today:

YALE—Has not yet finally settled upon a quarterback. But to the writer's mind, a far more serious point is in the lack of development of the line. It looked for a time as if their kicking might be weak with the amount of protection the rest of the team provided, but failing seems now to get distance and height with some reasonable assurance despite the tendency of the line to give way. They also are vulnerable to wide end-running on their defense and their attack still lacks that drive which it had last year.

PRINCETON—The Tiger eleven must come down to earth with a steady, dependable center trio on offense and defense. The team is fast and the forward passing well conceived, but there is still too much irregularity in the charge and sometimes in the passing, and an unsteadiness which will be more noticeable when the Tigers meet some bigger game. They are fumbling badly and that, too, in their best running game.

HARVARD—The Crimson still lacks cohesion between backs and line. Every now and then the line is moving forward all right when the backs hit—but not always. And it certainly does not knock the confidence out of a backfield man to have his own line coming toward him when he strikes.

Tigers Ready to Meet Santa Clara Tomorrow

Occidental will meet Santa Clara tomorrow afternoon in the Los Angeles Coliseum, rain or shine. This is the first battle between these two institutions. For several years Santa Clara has been seeking a football contest with Occy. A great deal of enthusiasm and curiosity has been aroused over the northern team since they held California, 13 to 7. Coaches Nichols, Smith and Lyle have spent considerable time perfecting a new system never before tried in the West. A shift formation has been developed which will be used for the first time against the Broncos. Comparative weights indicate that Santa Clara has a slight advantage. The Bronco team averages 180 and the Tigers 170 pounds. Both backfields average 165 pounds. Mishkin, Purser and Wheeler are the Occy ground gainers, while McKee, Rianda, Bundy and Fawke cover territory for Santa Clara.

The Occidental freshmen meet Manual Arts High school in the preliminary game at 1 p. m. The varsity struggle begins at 2:45 p. m. Manual claims the best prep aggregation in the city league, while Dewey Lyle is hopeful of his Tiger yearling material.

Montreal, Canada, plans to spend $909,000 for completion of reconstruction of its city hall, and $900,000 for new pavements about the city.

ANGELS NOSE OUT VERNON CREW, 1-0

Indians Give Portland Its Daily Beating; Oakland Is Out of Race

By THREE STRIKES
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—Just to prolong the suspense, the Los Angeles Angels nosed out Vernon 1 to 0 yesterday, which leaves them still in the race, but by the margin of a slim whisker. By virtue of Seattle's victory over Portland the Scraps are still two full games behind the league-leading Indians. Oakland was eliminated from the race at the hands of the San Francisco Seals, the latter's chances being so slim they are scarcely perceptible.

As for dope, here it is. Los Angeles has five games yet to play, while Seattle has but four. If the Angels win all five and Seattle wins two, the Angels would top the league by a half game. Should Los Angeles lose two, while the Indians split even in their four, Seattle would cop the pennant by a game and a half.

Two-Man Affair
Such are the chances of the fighting Krugmen, and they are still fighting. Many players believe that Portland is not training itself to hold the Indians, and if the Beavers would play ball, things might be different.

As for yesterday's game here, it was another two-man affair. Charley Root, on the mound for the Angels, held the Tigers helpless, his fast ball being too much for them. Root allowed but four hits and fanned eight men. Jimmy McAuley accounted for the one tally that did the trick by placing a single down the first base foul line in the eighth, scoring Hood, who had reached third on a double and an infield out.

Other Games
Jimmy Christian, hurling for the Tigers, was Root's dueling mate throughout the contest, and, while he pitched great ball, the Angels touched him for six bingles.

Seattle took its daily victory from the Portland Beavers at Portland, 8 to 4, thereby maintaining its lead in the pennant race.

San Francisco put Oakland out of the running by trimming the Oaks, 5 to 2.

The Salt Lake-Sacramento game was postponed on account of rain.

Another Match Race Unlikely for Epinard

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The chances of Epinard, French champion thoroughbred, appearing in another international match race in this country were regarded as slim today, owing to the proposed schedule the horse will follow at Laurel, Md., calling for Epinard to race in two and possibly three events on the regular Laurel card, leaving him little time for other appearances before his scheduled return to France.

Boxing Commissions End Term of Harmony

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—A definite break between the boxing commissions of New York and New Jersey, which long have worked in harmony, was seen today in the failure of the Jersey commission to recognize the local body's suspension of Mickey Walker, welterweight champion. In spite of the edict here, Walker met Jock Malone at Newark, October 29, it was announced.

Kid McCoy's Strange Actions Worry Jailer

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—Refused permission to "telephone" Mrs. Teresa Mors, woman he is accused of having slain, Norman Sey (Kid McCoy) again is under observation of alienists at the county jail. Close vigilance is being kept over the former prize fighter by the jailers because of his strange actions and M. F. Irby, his cellmate, claims he has had no sleep for several nights because of fear of bodily injury.

NEW YORK CLUBS DUE FOR CHANGE

Yank Head Wants Infielder And McGraw Would Like Pirate Material

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Variety being the spice that makes life palatable, it is probable that both New York ball clubs and at least two other outfits in the American and National leagues will undergo changes of some consequence before the season of 1925 begins at the beginning.

It is no star chamber secretary that Miller Huggins is in the field for an experienced infielder and today the boys had cooked up a natty little story that Everett Scott was to be traded for Walter Gerber, of the Browns. You can laugh at or weep upon that one, as the spirit moves you. Gerber is not coming to the Yankees to replace Scott any more than Ruth is going to the Browns to replace Tobin. These things are just not done.

Meusel, Kelly Mentioned
Irish Meusel, it is said, is definitely on the block as far as the Giants are concerned and one or two others, possibly George Kelly, may follow. McGraw undoubtedly would like to do some business with the Pittsburgh Pirates who are alleged to have wanted several young men in their employ. One of the latter is said to be Charley Grimm but just where the Giants would benefit there is a question. McGraw would be pleased to consider a trade for Carson Bigbee and it is understood that Dreyfuss is not so much enamored of the outfielder as he once was. Barney has a superfluity of outfielders. However, there is the difficulty of

LIGHTWEIGHTS IN FIRST GAME WIN

Glendale Defeat Citrus 17-0 As Central League Is Officially Opened

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff.
After playing poorly in the first half, the Glendale lightweights came back with a punch in the last thirty minutes of play and defeated the Citrus High lightweights, 17 to 0, yesterday on Broadway field in the first game of the league schedule. Johnny Lovell, fullback, and Lefty Brooks, right end, were the stars for the local team, Lovell in running back kicks and a 38-yard place kick for a field goal from a difficult angle, while Brooks caught a blocked pass in the last quarter and ran twenty yards for a touchdown.

The locals opened up the second half by kicking the ball to the Citrus 10-yard line. Citrus was forced to kick, and a 20-yard runback of the punt was made by Lovell. From the 38-yard line Lovell's place kick put the locals in a 3-to-0 lead. Stuart got off a 40-yard run around right end, but with the ball on the Citrus 6-yard line the Dynamiters were unable to put it over, the Citrus line holding like a stone wall.

Citrus made yards from their 20-yard line when a pass by Hayden was blocked in a general melee, and Brooke caught the ball, which had bounced high in the air, going twenty yards for the first touchdown of the game. Later, when the locals had received the kick-off, Harris ripped forty-five yards around right end getting Dreyfuss and McGraw together without loss of life. They are as amicable as a pair of fretful rattlesnakes.

Pirate Denies Making Statement In Scandal

FREEMONT, Ill., Oct. 17.—Entering a flat denial that he had ever made statements to the effect that members of the Pittsburgh club broke training prior to the last series in New York, Emil Yde, the young pitcher for the Pittsburgh club, started on his way to Chicago this morning to explain to Commissioner K. M. Landis how it happened that he "had been quoted to that effect."

"I never made any sort of a statement," he said. "And I take this opportunity to make an absolute denial of such rumors." The original statements attributed to Yde, which he denies he ever made, had reference to the condition of some of the Pirate players before the New York series.

A Rockford newspaperman, Harry Milne, gave publicity to the original story, and declared it was based upon statements made to a fan friend of his.

Stuart went thirty more yards through a broken field for the second touchdown.

EASTERN STARS TO HAVE BAZAAR

Electa Auxiliary Has Famous
Names on Patrons' List;
Dancing Promised

Names of prominent members of Glendale chapter, U. D. O. E. S., appear on the list of those assisting Mrs. Hettie Lawson in plans for the bazaar to be given tomorrow night in the Masonic temple by the Electa auxiliary. Mrs. Lawson is general chairman.

In charge of the various booths will be Sarah Sloat, quilts; Georgia Lambie, aprons; Frances M. Robinson, fancy work; Henrietta Murray, candy; Clytelle Hewitt, refreshments; Freda M. Augustine, cooked food; Miss Emily Stevens, handkerchiefs; Maude E. Watrous, dolls; Miss Edna Moore, tulip bed. A popular attendant will be "The Lady of the 1000 Pockets" in the person of Mrs. Evelyn G. Pierce. The bazaar will open at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon. Lunch will be served before dancing at night. During the evening there will be drawings for a quilt, two bead bags, a luncheon set and two dolls.

Parent-Teachers Hear Interesting Program

Members of the Broadway Parent-Teacher association met in the school auditorium yesterday afternoon, the business session being directed by Mrs. Lucy Evans, president. The program opened with the singing of the P. T. A. song led by Mrs. Foulks, patriotic chairman. Two solos were rendered by Mrs. Gates, Mrs. Starkey accompanying. "What the P. T. A. Means to Teachers" was the subject of a talk given by Mrs. Mary O. Ryan. Mrs. O. H. Spradling, president of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations spoke on the work being done by the associations and Miss Alice Ros played a violin solo.

Members of the association will serve a luncheon to children of the school next Friday at the noon hour. Those wishing to attend the convention to be held at Whittier next Thursday are requested to communicate with Mrs. Evans before Tuesday. After adjournment, tea was served by Mrs. Acton, courtesy chairman.

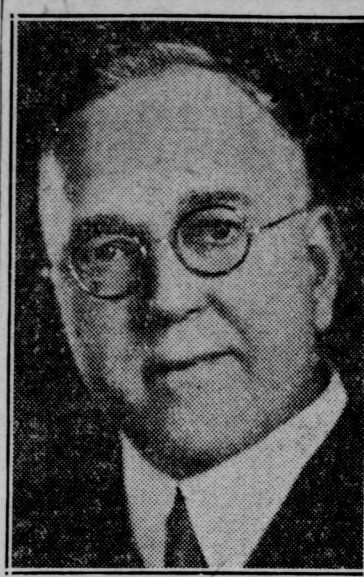

Big Brother Banquet Arranged for Scouts

The Men's club of the First Congregational church will sponsor a "Big Brother Banquet" next Tuesday night, honoring the three organizations of boys included in the club activities, Troops 2 and 7 of Boy Scouts and Lodge 142, Boy Rangers. Dinner will be served at 6:15 o'clock followed by speeches and a program of games.

Jack Buttick, morale officer of the Southern California Edison company, will speak on "Americanism." Ralph Boyles, vice president of the Men's club is in charge of the affair. The boys' organizations are in charge of Kenneth Payne, Ralph Haight and H. C. Wilcox.

New Pastor

REV. W. C. GRAVES, who will take the pulpit in the new Free Methodist church.

The opening service of the new Free Methodist church at the corner of North Pacific avenue and Myrtle avenue will be held Sunday, October 19, at 3 o'clock. A series of revivals will begin with the first meeting Sunday and will be conducted by Evangelist W. C. Graves, now of Los Angeles. Rev. Graves is a native Californian, having been born and reared in Santa Clara valley but he has spent most of his ministerial career east of the Rocky Mountains, or in coast-to-coast evangelism and has a wide experience.

He has acted as conference evangelist in the Southern California conference of the Free Methodist church and has organized churches at Riverside, Chino, Watts, Sherman, Colton and Glendale and has also organized churches in Arizona, Oklahoma and Indiana.

Previous to his evangelistic work, Rev. Graves acted as pastor at Chico, Ione, Carralitos, San Jose, Pasadena, Los Angeles and Pomona, and for the past two years has been pastor of the largest church in the denomination at the college church, which is called "the hub of Free Methodism," in Greenville, Illinois.

He has consented to act as pastor of the new church in Glendale and the people of the church feel fortunate in securing the services of one of the most widely known preachers of the denomination. Rev. Graves says he is charmed with Glendale, and declares it is the nicest and cleanest city of its size he has found in all his travels.

PETER HANSON IN PRAISE OF NEWS

Realty Board Head Refers to
'Splendid Support' Given
By This Newspaper

A. T. Cowan, owner and publisher of The Glendale Evening News, is in receipt of a letter from Peter Hanson, president of the Glendale Realty board, in which reference is made to the meeting of the realtors' luncheon on Wednesday at which Mr. Hanson praised this newspaper for its part in supporting the realty organization. The letter follows:

"My Dear Mr. Cowan—I took occasion yesterday to refer to the splendid support of The Glendale Evening News in writing up the activities of the Glendale Realty board. As you know, the board fared well at the Pasadena convention, winning six first awards, tying for one second, and securing four state directors, aside from taking a leading part in the convention proceedings. Among the trophies was the achievement cup, given to the board for having done most for its city during the year. This is the most sought for honor, and Glendale would never have been the proud possessor had it not been for the very generous support of your newspaper. Therefore, a motion was unanimously passed, extending a vote of thanks to your paper. With cordial good wishes,

"Very sincerely yours,
"PETER HANSON,
"President."

Presbyterians to Hold 'Pink Rose Service'

"Pink Rose Service" will be given at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night at the Glendale Presbyterian church, with Miss Anita Fletcher reading, assisted by the junior choir, directed by Mrs. Brooks and special quartet and soloists. This service is the story of the saving of a girl of the slums by a pink rose given her by Mrs. Whittemore, founder of the Door of Hope mission in New York City. The program will be given in the main auditorium.

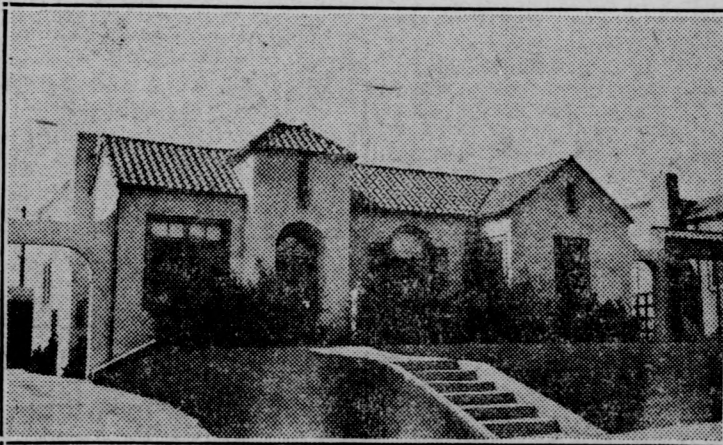

Pre-communion service at the church tonight will be "Family Night" with Dr. Stuart McLennan as speaker. Music will be by the Harmony quartet. "Men's Night" was observed last night, with over 150 at a dinner, prepared and served by men. Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris, new pastor of the First Methodist church, was the speaker.

Glendale Woman Given High Republican Honor

Miss Eva Daniels of 324 West Colorado street, active in Republican affairs, has received a certificate making her a member of the Republican State Central committee of 1924-26.

Audiences Are Pleased With Players' Offering

"The Country Cousin," Booth Tarkington and Julian Street's comedy now being presented with success by the Dobinson Players at the Club Playhouse, has received much favorable comment. Audiences leave the performances in a happy state of mind, realizing that Glendale has in the Dobinson Players an excellent stock company.

Los Angeles, Hollywood and Pasadena have been well represented in the attendance this week. Out of town visitors express amazement at the beauty of the playhouse, and are loud in their praise of the company. A musical program is given at each performance.

Golden Mill Cafe to Open Tomorrow Night

R. E. Compton of Alhambra, a recent newcomer to Glendale, is re-opening the Golden Mill cafe, 137 South Brand boulevard, tomorrow. The cafe is being re-decorated and renovated before opening.

Mr. Compton is well known in the restaurant business in Alhambra, having owned a cafe in that city for some time. He is bringing Parley Priest, also of Alhambra, to manage the kitchen. Mr. Priest is a chef of ability, and his culinary ability is expected to go a long way to popularize the cafe. The cafe will be open every day, including Sundays, until midnight. A special feature will be a 50 cent business men's lunch.

Acacia Avenue Home Entered by Burglars

F. B. Shang of 121 West Acacia avenue reported his house burglarized between 8:30 and 10:30 o'clock last night of two rings, silk hosiery, a string of beads and a $2.50 gold piece. Entrance was gained through a rear door.

FOLEY PILLS REACHED THE SORE SPOT
Mrs. Ellen Reighard, South Fork, Pa., writes: "I had been suffering with my kidneys and nothing seemed to touch the aching spot until I procured FOLEY PILLS, with wonderful results." FOLEY PILLS, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, gently and thoroughly flush and cleanse the kidneys and help to eliminate poisonous waste matter. Try a bottle today and you will be well pleased with the relief obtained. The use of FOLEY PILLS increases kidney activity.

75 Boys, Girls Join Confirmation Class

A class of seventy-five boys and girls from 12 to 15 years of age have entered the confirmation class at the Holy Family church under the direction of Rev. Michael Galvin. The class will be in session daily from 4 to 5 o'clock, except Saturdays and Sundays. Right Rev. John J. Cantwell, bishop of the diocese, will come to Glendale the last Sunday in November to confirm the young people.
